HOPE REVOLT IN MEXICO AVERTED

SEEKING PLAN FOR MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK

Rogers Visitor At Heeney Camp; Going To Smith's

(Special To The News)

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., July 23.—Flew down today to see Heeney training. That's the first one of the four camps I have visited. Going to Al Smith's next.

The way the whole thing looks to me I don't see how this fellow Raskob can lose. He can sell every Democrat a car.

See by the papers today that Al don't know when he will accept the nomination as they are having trouble getting the radio for him to accept over.

That's a bigger thing nowadays than the election is. "When can I get the radio?"

Be funny if the night some candidate accepted there was static and the audience couldn't tell if he accepted or not.

I sometimes wonder how Lincoln ever let the people know he was in a mood to do some running.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Fred Finnefrock, New Castle boy who started out some weeks ago on a two years' trip around the world, has reached the Hawaiian Islands, according to a note that reached The News today. It was mailed in Honolulu on July 9.

Operation of the immense tin plate mills here on a 17 turn per week basis is exceptionally pleasing industrial news. If the weather would moderate a little it would be easier on the workmen. Last week was a terribly hot one for the men who work in the mills.

Just as a matter of force of habit, there was a heavy rain storm here on Sunday. Whether there is anything in the St. Swithin legend or not, we are getting an abundance of rain, almost daily.

New Castle street department employes worked yesterday in an effort to get some of the debris removed from the streets, which was washed down from the hills in the Thursday night storm.

With three small hurricanes, accompanied by great bursts of rain, within the last four days, Lawrence county has had its full share for the rummer, it seems to Pa Newc. On Highland avenue Sunday afternoon the storm blew a large tree across the street near Sheridan avenue. For a while, traffic was tied up, but with the arrival of trouble shooters from the light company it was made passable within a few minutes.

Down on Laurel avenue another tree was bowled over by the storm. However, it was only a small one, so no damage was done. Trees were down in other localities.

On Albert street the steam shovel sat in a pool of water over its scuppers all afternoon. In the evening the pool had gone down somewhat, and this morning the men were hard at work again, digging out the street so that it can be paved.

Policemen, Pa Newc is beginning to believe, are nice folk to be acquainted with. Last week end, Tommy Lynch came into the station bearing a large watermelon. Time was taken out and soon the sergeant's desk was bespattered with seeds, rind and water.

Block by block, the needed improvements on East Long avenue are progressing. The first block has been completed and this week the pavers will start on the second. A tar composition is being placed over bricks which are now bumpy from long use.

Many were caught in their cottages along the Slippery Rock Sunday afternoon, and if the reports are to be believed, most cottages were like caves. One man says that the only good his cottage roof is in a rain like yesterday's is that it spreads it evenly and in a sort of mist. And there were still others who tried to go swimming. But when they reached the creek, they found it too high and too muddy.

How a doctor tells if a man is intoxicated was demonstrated to Pa

Eyes Of Miners Are Focused On Big Conference

Policy Committee Of District No. 5 Goes Into Session In Pittsburgh

HOPE TO ARRANGE SATISFACTORY WAGE

Will Try To Outline Program To Be Used In Negotiating With Operators

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—Thousands of miners throughout Western Pennsylvania focused their attention here today as the policy committee of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, went into conference to outline a program with which they plan to negotiate with the operators for a scale of pay upon which they can return to work.

With an announced policy of reconstruction, the union officials hope to agree upon some logical and satisfactory solution to the bitter fight which has been waged for nearly two years.

Today's conference follows the recent action of the union's international policy committee at Indianapolis, in which the Jacksonville scale was abandoned and permission was given the various districts to negotiate with coal operators on separate agreements.

Silence Predominates

Silence was predominant at union headquarters here as to what would be discussed at the policy committee conference. Three important questions, however, are expected to be the outstanding topics of discussion. They are: wages, working conditions, and check weighmen.

No intimation has been given out by any of the union officials as to what course will be followed. Wages, it is known will take a downward swing from the $7.50 basis wage of the Jacksonville agreement. But how much of a drop they will take is a matter of speculation.

In Illinois, efforts are being made to establish a $6 rate which amounts to a $1.50 a day reduction as compared with the Jacksonville scale.

Behind Closed Doors

Both Phillip Murray, international vice president of the union, and Patrick T. Fagan, president of District No. 5, today reiterated their hopes that the mining industry could be returned to normalcy. They declared that everything in the power of the union could be done to stabilize conditions by negotiating with the operators on the fairest basis possible.

The Pittsburgh Coal company today remained firm in its declaration that it would not deal with the union regardless of what action the policy committee might take. Officials of other companies apparently stood neutral on the subject.

The conference of the union officials and the policy committee today is being held behind closed doors.

NORTH HILL HIT BY INDIVIDUAL STORM SUNDAY

Number Of Trees Are Blown Down And Other Damage Is Done

By reports at the police station and the city street department headquarters the north hill was the only place in the city where damage was done Sunday afternoon, when another small hurricane blew over New Castle.

On Highland avenue, almost at the corner of Sheridan, a large tree was blown across the street by the high wind. Trolley service was interrupted while workmen cleared away the debris, but otherwise, no damage was done. The tree also feel across a Bell Telephone company cable, but no lines were put out of commission. Today the men from the telephone company is removing the tree.

In Berger woods, a large oak tree was struck by lightning, and at the corner of Sheridan and Delaware avenues another tree fell across the house of W. R. Bingham, while trees were damaged in other parts of the north hill area.

Report 600 Chinese Troops Killed In Battle Clash With Japanese Troops

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 23.—Six hundred Chinese Nationalist Troops are reported to have been killed in fighting with Japanese forces along the Tsingtao-Tsinanfu railway in Shantung on Sunday, according to an unconfirmed dispatch from Tsingtao today.

A Peking dispatch to the Daily telegraph reports that the Chinese Nationalist government, which now controls all China except Manchuria, has broken off relations with Japan.

Peking reported the receipt of Tokio advices saying that Japan "will take immediate steps to protect her interests in China."

Japan has warned Chang Hseuh Liang, military governor of Manchuria, not to attempt to unify Manchuria with the Nationalist administration in China proper.

Japan is still maintaining powerful garrisons both in Shantung and Manchuria.

Steel Worker Is Robbed By Negroes

Hold-up Occurs As R. W. Bees Is Enroute To Work On Sunday

A watch and a few dollars in change were taken by two negroes when they robbed R. W. Bees of 1417 Huron avenue as he was on his way to work at the Carnegie Steel Company early Sunday morning.

Mr. Bees was walking along the cement wall at the rear of Center street when the two men rushed him. One held Mr. Bees while the other rifled his pockets, taking the watch and the money. Because the night was dark, Mr. Bees did not get a clear view of the men, but to the police he described the negroes as being about six feet and five feet six inches tall, respectively.

Later in the morning Officers Letera and Samuels investigated the case and at the scene of the robbery they found a pencil and a receipt out of Mr. Bees' pocket. It was later reported that the two men also took one yard of No Gar tape and a check book on the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company from Mr. Bees, as well as a street car token holder with 12 checks in it.

Allege Survivor Robbed Malmgren Of His Clothing

Russian Newspaperman Says Captain Zappi Wears Malmgren's Coat And Socks

MARIANO LOSES LEG THROUGH OPERATION

By EDWARD L. DEUSEE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, July 23.—Sensational charges that Capt. Zappi, one of the survivors of the Italia tragedy, not only abandoned Dr. Finn Malmgren, the Swedish scientist, alive, but also partially stripped him of his clothing were made today by the correspondent of the Moscow newspaper Verchernie. The correspondent is aboard the soviet ice breaker Krassin, which rescued Zappi and Captain Mariano from their perilous haven on an ice floe.

The correspondent further claims absolute confirmation for the statement that Zappi, when rescued, wore Malmgren's overcoat and heavy woolen socks.

Altogether, the correspondent claimed, Zappi wore three coats and three pairs of heavy socks, while Mariano was lying on the ice scantily clothed in a single pair of socks, his uniform and overcoat.

As a result of his scanty garb, the correspondent charges, Mariano's leg froze and its amputation was later necessary.

Noble Depressed

The correspondent states that a physician who examined the two men after they were rescued found that Zappi had been without food only five days, and not 13, as he claimed. Mariano, on the other hand, had been suffering the pangs of hunger for a much longer period.

Expecting death momentarily, Mariano gave Zappi permission to devour his body after he died, the correspondent said.

He declares that while the seven survivors of the Italia rescued by the Krassin were aboard that vessel, they spent much time arguing over the necessity for an international investigation of the Nobile expedition.

Professor Samoyolovich, head of the Krassin rescue expedition, today stated that when he visited General Nobile aboard the Citta Di Milano, the Italian leader of the ill-fated Polar expedition begged to be allowed to accompany the Krassin in its search for Capt. Amundsen's party and the six missing men in the Alessandri group.

Samoyolovich said he consented with the understanding that the soviet relief commission would have to approve. Nobile at the time said the

Mears-Collyer Globe Circlers Set New Record

New York Gives Round-World Circlers Great Ovation At End Of Journey

BREAK OLD MARK BY FIVE DAYS

Captain Collyer Says Last Few Miles Of Trip Flown Under Difficulties

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—John Henry Mears and C. B. D. Collyer were deluged with congratulations today upon the successful conclusion of their trip around the globe by steamship and airplane in the record-break twenty three days, fifteen hours, twenty one minutes and three seconds. They clipped nearly five days from the record of 28 days 14 hours, 36 minutes and 5 seconds, made in 1926 by Edward Evans and Linton Wells.

Mears and Collyer, a veteran pilot, flying the Fairchild cabin monoplane, "City of New York," landed at Miller Field, Staten Island, at 6:55:12 o'clock last evening. They immediately sped by motor to the battery, New York City, from where they started on June 29, at 5:00:45 a. m.

Five hundred persons at Miller Field gave a mighty cheer when the travelers arrived. The Rev. C. T. Collyer, a minister of Baltimore, Md., father of Captain Collyer, was the first to greet them.

"Tailwind" the Selyham terrier, which the travelers had with them on their entire trip, also came in for much recognition, posing for the movie cameramen with both masters.

Captain Collyer said the last few miles of their journey were the most difficult to negotiate with their plane, because of the low ceiling and the very thick fog.

French Fliers Are Safe In Azores On Leg Of Long Flight

French Aviators Plan To Make Round Trip Flight To United States And Back

(International News Service)

HORTA, Azores, July 23—Lieut. Paulin Paris, French flier, completed the first lap of his trans-Atlantic flight from Brest, France, to New York when his plane, The Frigate, landed in the harbor here at 5:20 a. m. today (3:20 a. m. New York daylight time).

Paris was accompanied by Mechanic Marat, who also acted as relief pilot, and Radio Operator Cadou. The flight from Brest was made in 14 hours and 20 minutes, at an average speed of about 100 miles an hour.

The frigate is a dual-motored seaplane similar in type to that used by Capt. Roald Amundsen, Major Rene Guilbaud and their three companions

Secretary Wilbur Coolidge's Guest

Stops For Night At Summer Home Of President In Wisconsin

(International News Service)

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 23.—Carrying an encouraging report on the conditions in Nicaragua, where the United States marines are maintaining order preliminary to the holding of a national election, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur arrived here today to be an overnight guest of President Coolidge at Cedar Island Lodge. Mrs. Wilbur accompanied the secretary.

Wilbur is en route to California to take part in the ceremonies incident to the notification of Herbert Hoover on his nomination. Later the navy chief will review the Pacific fleet maneuvers.

Shortly after Wilbur's arrival Thomas Cochran, member of the J. P. Morgan firm of New York, reached the Brule to spend a night with the executive also. Cochran succeeded Dwight Morrow when the latter accepted the ambassadorship to Mexico and it was reported he planned to urge Mr. Coolidge not to overlook Morrow when selecting a successor to Herbert Hoover as secretary of commerce.

Hoover And Party Will Live In Open At California Camp

Candidate Will Set Pace For Others In Rugged Outdoor Life

Taking Time To Work On His Speech Of Acceptance For August 11

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PALO ALTO, Cal., July 23.—The four-day campaign and fishing trip, on which Herbert Hoover will take his newspaper and photographer family to the Klamath river in northern California next week will silence all Democratic innuendos against his health, it was declared here today by his closest friends.

The Hoover outing, arranged at first to give the Republican nominee some rest and recreation before plunging into his campaign for the Presidency, they said, will demonstrate once and for all that he enjoys the best of health, has a powerful physique and is subject to none of the physical weaknesses that usually undermine office executives.

To Live in Open

On the trip the nominee and his party will ride about 800 miles in motor cars, travel by mule-back into the Siskiyou range to reach the Hoover fishing lodge, live out in the open by day and sleep beneath the stars at night. It was a question here whether the "tenderfoot" members of his party could match the pace certain to be set by the nominee.

Obregon Buried Beside Mother In Simple Ceremony

No Elaborate Service For Late Mexican Leader, According To His Wishes

WIDOW IS BOWED DOWN BY GRIEF

(International News Service)

NAVOJOA, SONORA, Mexico, July 23.—Having paid their last respects to General Alvaro Obregon, who met death at the hands of an assassin, thousands of persons were making their homeward journeys today.

The burial, simple but impressive, was held at Huatabampo, a village southwest of here where the distinguished Mexican leader was born. Here General Obregon was layed at rest along the side of his mother.

Harboring no desire for revenge, Senora Obregon remained in her hotel, surrounded by intimate friends and relatives. She will soon return to her ranch home at Cajeme.

"The only punishment I ask for the killer of Alvaro," she said, "Is that he be brought here to see with his eyes the picture which he has created".

The special funeral train which brought General Obregon's body here will return to Mexico City either Tuesday or Wednesday.

Start Attempt To Settle Estate Of Capt. Loewenstein

(International News Service)

BRUSSELS, July 23.—Attorneys for the Loewenstein family today began preparing legal papers for settlement of the complicated estate left by the famous Belgian capitalist. The will, which has remained sealed, probably will be opened this week. Capt. Alfred Loewenstein's body, which was brought here from Calais, was secretly placed in a receiving vault in Evere cemetery late Sunday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds, mother of Sheriff H. M. Reynolds, who recently underwent a serious operation at the New Castle hospital, is reported to be improving.

Resignations From Cabinet Soothe Faction

Obregonista Leaders Believe Action Has Prevented Threatened Uprising

OBREGON SLAYER'S TRIAL IN 24 HOURS

Members Of Cabinet Who Quit Are Accused Of Making Incendiary Speeches

(International News Service)

Leaders of the Obregonista bloc in the Mexican congress expressed belief at Mexico City today that bloodshed and possibly attempted revolt have been averted by the enforced resignation of Minister of Labor Luis Morones and two minor officials from the Calles government.

Morones, who is head of the regional confederation of Mexican labor, and other members of the labor group were accused of being "intellectual authors" of the assassination of President-elect Alvaro Obregon because their fiery political speeches led to his killing by Jose De Leon Toral, a young religious fanatic.

Following the funeral of Gen. Obregon at Navojoa, Sonora, his widow declared she "asked for nothing against the assasin."

De Leon Toral probably will be placed on trial for the murder within 24 hours.

MEXICO CITY, July 23.—Political tension eased up somewhat here today following the resignation of Luis N. Morones, Secretary of Industry, Commerce and Labor, and leader of the Laborite Party, from the cabinet of President Calles.

Morones was a bitter political enemy of the late General Alvaro Obregon and enraged Obregonists had openly accused the cabinet member of being implicated in the plot which led to the assassination of the President-elect.

Two of Morones' acknowledged lieutenants, General Celestino Gasca, chief of the government commissary department, and Eduardo Moneda, head of the national lithograph department, resigned with Morones.

Tries To Perform Airplane Stunt; Forfeits His Life

(International News Service)

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., July 23.—An attempt to perform an airplane stunt was today blamed for the death of Theodore Smith, 22, of Wheeling, who was killed when he jumped from the wing of an airplane into the Ohio river.

J. W Hunt, pilot of the plane, said he warned Smith not to attempt the jump. He said the plane was flying low when the accident occurred.

Believe Mariano Victim Of North

Report Man Aboard Rescue Ship Krassin Dead, But Name Is Withheld

TWO OTHERS ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

(International News Service)

LONDON, July 23.—Rumors were current today that Capt. Mariano, rescued survivor of the Italia tragedy, had died of the effects of his long exposure to Arctic weather conditions.

A Central News dispatch from King's Bay, Spitzbergen, stated that there had been a death aboard the Citta Di Milano, aboard which General Nobile and the other rescued men of his expedition are now being cared for.

The dispatch said that the name of the dead man was being kept secret. Mariano's leg was frozen before he was rescued by the Soviet Ice-Breaker Krassin and it was necessary to amputate it because gangrene had set in. Two other men aboard the Citta Di Milano were said to be suffering serious injuries—Capt. Zappi, who was rescued with Mariano, and Ceccioni, mechanic of the Italia, who suffered a broken leg when the dirigible's gondola crashed.

Orders Pennsy To Repair Approaches

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 23.—The public service commission today directed the Pennsylvania railroad to improve the approaches to a crossing over its tracks in Jordan township, Clearfield county.

The grade of the approaches will be raised and the crossing widened. Total estimated cost was placed at $3,079. The commission fixed November 1 for completion of the improvement.

He looked at the boy's eyes, tried his reflexes and after that told him to stand up straight, close his eyes, and leave his hands lax at his side. He reeled. Ergo, he was intoxicated.

Another sure sign, says the police doctor, is to have the suspect close his eyes and try to touch his nose with the tip of his finger. Sometimes he can, but most often he cannot. Then, another way a suspect is tested is to have the man close his eyes and try to bring the tips of his index fingers together in front of his face. This one never fails.

Arriving at their second port of call, Paris and his companions will again refuel before continuing to New York.

If his westward flight to New York is successful, Lieut. Paris intends to make a return journey to Brest, stopping only at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, enroute.

The frigate's motors are capable of 960 horsepower. They are of the Jupiter air-cooled rotary type. The plane carried 5,000 liters of fuel on its journey here. Constant radio communication with the French coast was maintained.

Deputy Ricardo Topete, field leader of the Obregonista party in the absence of Aaron Saenz, Governor of the State of Neuvoleon, expressed satisfaction at the resignation of Morones.

He said that it would result in all the various groups of Obregonista party lining up solidly under the leadership of Gov. Saenz. He stated that in all probability Saenz would be designated provisional president for two years at the extraordinary session of Congress on Dec. 1.

reached his advisers that the Democrats plan attacks on Hoover's health. Such subtle campaigns have been known to rob a candidate of thousands of votes and the Hoover managers now feel the camping trip will destroy the effect of such attacks. They declared Hoover will show he can climb mountains, sleep in the open, get his meals at a campfire and come home in better health and spirits than when he left.

Works on Speech

The trip was then arranged. Following the trip Hoover will return here for the notification exercises at Stanford Stadium August 11. He will leave a few days later for a three-day visit to Los Angeles and then start his swing back home, stopping off in Iowa for three days and a speech August 21 at West Branch, Ia., his birthplace. In that speech Hoover will discuss the farm problem and its cure.

The nominee resumed work today on his acceptance speech. He hopes to conclude it by the middle of the week. He was also to resume his role of candidate by playing host to Senator Hiram Johnson, his one-time political foe. Johnson has indorsed him and Hoover asked the senator here to discuss plans for the coming campaign. By this action Hoover averted any possibility of a split in the Republican party in California, such as cost Charles Evans Hughes the state in 1916 and brought about the election of Woodrow Wilson.

Deaths Of The Day

Dominick Di'Mucci Funeral.

Funeral services for Dominick Di'Mucci of South Jefferson street, took place Monday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Vitus church.

Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Patrick DiRanna. The church was filled with sorrowing friends and relatives of the deceased. Many beautiful flowers expressed sympathy and esteem. Burial was made in St. Vitus cemetery and the pallbearers were members of the House of Savoio.

Mr. Holliday Buried.

Funeral services for the late John F. Holliday of West State street were conducted Monday morning at 9:30 in St. Mary's church. Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Rev. F. F. O'Shea, celebrant; Rev. Fr. Francis Clifford, deacon and Rev. P. J. McKenna, subdeacon.

The pallbearers were Thomas and William Shehy, Paul and Harry Kenny and Joseph and Frank McCreary. Interment was made in Villa Marie cemetery.

Mrs. Anna Coleman

Mrs. Anna Coleman, aged 40 years, wife of James Coleman of 332 Croton avenue, died Saturday evening at 6:10 in the New Castle hospital after a brief illness.

Mrs. Coleman had been a resident of New Castle for about 12 years. She was a member of the Union Baptist church, West Grant street. She was the daughter of Jacob and Anna Stewart.

Besides her husband she leaves two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Steele of Pittsburgh and Mrs. T. C. Erwin of Newport News, Va., and two brothers, Walter and Elly Stewart, of Pittsburgh.

Funeral services will take place Tuesday, July 24, at two p. m., from the Union Baptist church, with the pastor, Rev. C. D. Henderson, officiating. Interment in Greenwood cemetery.

Margaret C. Love.

Miss Margaret C. Love, aged 75, died Saturday evening about 6 o'clock at the home of her brother, J. W. Love, West Middlesex, Pa., after an illness of several years due to a complication of diseases. She was the daughter of the late Benjamin and Eliza Jane Bell Love and was one of the most widely known and highly respected women of Mercer county, of which she had been a resident all her life. She joined the Neshannock Presbyterian church in 1867 but at the time of her death was a member of the Presbyterian church of West Middlesex. She leaves one brother, J. W. Love, with whom she made her home.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, eastern standard time, from her late residence in West Middlesex with Rev. W. J. Holmes in charge. Interment was made in Neshannock cemetery.

Mrs. Fannie Fisher.

Mrs. Fannie Fisher, aged 69 years, widow of A. Fisher, died at her home, 11 East Moody avenue, Saturday, July 21, after an illness of about eight weeks.

Mrs. Fisher leaves the following children: Mrs. M. Cohen and Mrs. B. Malvern of Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. S. Simon, A. Fisher, Mrs. Harry Frank, Miss Sarah and D. Fisher all of New Castle and D. Fisher of Gray, Col.

Funeral services were held from the late home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was made in the Tefereth Israel cemetery.

John Boron

John Boron, aged 39 years, of 9 Maple street died in the New Castle hospital Sunday, July 22, after an illness.

Deceased was born in Poland October 25, 1889, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ognacy Boron. He was a member of St. Mary's Polish church.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Frances Boron, he leaves three children, Stanley, Cecylia and Henry.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, July 25, at nine a. m. from St. Mary's Polish church. Interment in Madonna cemetery.

Charles Reinhart.

Charles Reinhart, aged 64 years of 1314 Delaware avenue, one of the best known railroad men of this city, passed away Sunday morning July 22 at 12 o'clock in the Shenango Valley hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Reinhart was born at Newport, May 5, 1864, a son of Lewis and Jennie Black Reinhart. He had been employed on the Pennsylvania railroad for about 35 years and was a most trusted and faithful employe. At the time of his death he was a conductor of the company.

He was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church and the Order of Railway Conductors.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Maude Reinhart, he leaves three children, Harry Reinhart and Mrs. Ruth Leone Scoville of this city and Dorothy Jane at home. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Charles Sherlock of Wampum, and Mrs. David Newton of Washingtonville, Pa., and one brother Lewis Reinhart of New Castle.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday, July 24, at 3 p. m. D. S. T. from his late residence. Burial in Oak Park cemetery.

Nikolay Orabinecz.

Nikolay Orabinecz, aged 51 years, of 15 Walter street, died in the New Castle hospital Sunday, July 22. He was born in Czecho-Slovakia, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nikolay Orabinecz, and had been a resident of New Castle for some months.

Besides his wife, Catherine Orabinecz, he leaves the following children: Mary, John, Nick, George, Joseph and Helen.

Mrs. McKim Buried.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary McKim were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home in North Beaver township with Rev. George Neill, pastor of the Bethel United Presbyterian church officiating, assisted by Rev. A. J. Calvin of the New Galilee U. P. church.

The services were most largely attended by relatives and friends of Mrs. McKim. Many beautiful flowers banked the casket, expressing high regard. Two selections were sung by Lillian Lipp and Mary Patterson during the services.

Burial was made in Bethel cemetery and the pallbearers were Joseph McKim, William Kyle, Lee McKinley, Seeley McKim, David Cosgrove and Frank Jenkins.

William H. Boal.

William H. Boal, aged 63 years, died Monday morning at 4 o'clock at his home in West Middlesex, after a brief illness.

Mr. Boal complained of feeling ill while preparing to attend church Sunday morning. About 1 o'clock he was seized with uremic convulsions which resulted in his death this morning.

Mr. Boal was born in West Middlesex, August 7, 1865, and had spent his entire life in that place. He was married April 5, 1857, to Lawlissa Marstellar who survives him with three children: Harry of Grove City, Mrs. Lawrence Taylor and Walter Boal. He also leaves three grandchildren Helen and Wendell Tate and Billie Boal and four brothers, George and Frank Boal of Youngstown, and Fred and John Boal of West Middlesex.

Mr. Boal was well known in the entire section around West Middlesex as a cattle buyer and shipper. He also conducted a retail meat and grocery story. About twelve years ago he retired from active work. He was a prominent member of the M. E. church, being a member of the official board for many years. He was tax assessor of the borough for a number of years.

Funeral services will be held from his home Wednesday, July 25, at 2:30 p. m., in charge of Rev. Smelzer.

Two Injured In Riot In Harlem Negro District

Estimate 2,500 Negroes Battle Officers; Police Officer And Negro Wounded

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—Only a few hours after 2,500 negro rioters battled 200 police and firemen in Harlem, four of the police being injured, a patrolman was stabbed and a negro shot in a new outbreak.

Special squads of officers are patrolling the colored area to guard against a race war.

Patrolman Patrick Woods, 29, was stabbed in the chest by Arthur Jones, 40, a negro. Woods is in a dangerous condition at Harlem hospital.

The negro, shot in the groin by the policeman in retaliation for the knifing, also was taken to that institution. Charges of assault were lodged against him.

The outbursts was the worst disorder, so far as numbers are concerned, that Harlem has experienced in years.

Correct this sentence: "I have loaned considerable money to my friends," said he, "and that's just the same as having it in the bank."

Clerks never disturb Mussolini when he's meditating. They know it's a cabinet meeting.

If you're too proud to hold an ordinary job, and haven't sense enough to hold a big job, you will think the race composed of yokels and Babbitts.

Ready for the Big Bout

On eve of battle world champion tells training secrets

A MAGNIFICENT physical specimen, trained to the last degree of fitness—this is Gene Tunney today, ready and confident to defend his title as champion heavyweight of the world.

One great secret of Tunney's success is that he never—even between fights—lets himself get soft, lets his system become sluggish. He's always in first class trim.

You might think, with all the strenuous exercise he gets, he'd never need anything else to keep his system in perfect order. Yet Tunney takes Nujol regularly every day to keep himself in A1 condition.

This is what he says:

"I started taking Nujol internally seven years ago. The first month Nujol brought remarkable changes in my physical condition. Gas-pockets no longer formed in my stomach and intestines. My elimination became active and normal. My appetite increased and a desire for intensive training was created. Since that time I have taken Nujol about five nights a week. I have regulated myself to the amount necessary to keep my elimination normal. If I discover that I have taken an overdose I stop its use for a couple of days when I renew my daily practice of taking a swallow from the bottle before retiring.

"I have found during my seven years' experience with Nujol that it is not habit-forming, or in any way unpleasant or harmful."

Tunney is equally enthusiastic about Nujol as an external rub. He has his trainer use it on him regularly.

Gene Tunney

"I have found Nujol followed by alcohol the best and most practical kind of rub-down. I adopted the custom of using Nujol in this way some time ago because it prevents friction, is free from odor and in no way discolors the skin, leaving the body clean and free from all oily substances and unpleasant scents."

Nujol is not a medicine. It contains absolutely no medicine or drugs. It is simply a pure substance—perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey)—that keeps your system functioning at all times as Nature intended it to. Regularly. Easily. Normally. It not only prevents an excess of body poisons from forming (we all have them) but aids in their removal.

Take a tip from Tunney's training. Buy a bottle of Nujol today. You'll find it at all the better drug stores.

IF THE NEED BE THERE

FORTY-NINE years ago Thomas A. Edison first demonstrated his discovery of electric light. It was not a very good electric light, judged by present-day standards. The principle of it was all right, but the correct material had not been found. The carbonized thread, sealed in a glass bulb from which air was excluded, would burn but a few hours.

But even this poor demonstration was recognized as a very good beginning. The greatest claim it had to promise was the need for it. Everyone could see at once how desirable such a method of lighting was, and that popular understanding and demand were all that were needed to insure that inventors would perfect the thing that had been discovered.

Today the airplane and the airship are somewhat in the experimental stage. Those who believe in them and are striving to improve them think it necessary to make demonstrations and tests to prove to the people their practicability as means of transportation.

But the hope for the future of these agencies lies in the fact that they are needed. They already are sufficiently demonstrable to prove that they will do what other means of transportation cannot do and never can be made to do. That fact will create the demand, and the demand will encourage inventors to bring the flying craft to perfection.

Mr. Edison fortunately has survived to witness the triumph of many of his greatest schemes. The achievements of inventive genius warrant the prediction that wherever some great and apparent need exists, some way will be found to satisfy it.

WOES OF THE PROFESSIONAL BEGGAR

WE all have our troubles in this uncertain world, but one of the most unexpected slants on the woes of life comes in the indignation of the New York beggar who resented being called "a bum" by the policeman who arrested him on the charge of vagrancy.

He was taken into custody while soliciting alms from women who were returning home from work. Many of them, touched with mistaken sympathy, were pouring their hard-earned coins into his hat. On the way to the station house he poured out his indignation on the officers, declaring that he was no bum and that he had $20,000 in bank, more than "the cop" had "earned in his life."

An investigation proved that there was more truth than poetry in the claim. Nearly two hundred dollars in fresh bank notes were found on his person and it was shown that he had an account in a bank on the Bowery, another in a trust company on Wall Street and a third in an institution in Brattleboro, Vermont.

This is not the first time he has been arrested, but he persists in his tactics, probably on the theory that it is easier to beg than to work. Quite likely he feels that begging is a form of work, and that is why he resents being called "a bum."

All of this goes to prove how easily the tender-hearted may be imposed upon, and why it has been found necessary to have organized forms of charity and New York is not the only place where the racket is worked!

HAZARDS OF THE ANTARCTIC

AMONG aviators there is an axiom to the effect that 75 per cent of all successful long distance flying is done on the ground. Commander Richard E. Byrd, who is both pilot and explorer, is demonstrating in plans for his antarctic expedition his recognition of the need for careful and prolonged preparation which that axiom expresses. Particularly is the attitude noticeable in his recent statement describing efforts now under way to make the expedition so self-contained and so self-reliant that only the most unexpected and extraordinary accident could justify a call on the outside world for help.

Twenty-three hundred miles from the nearest habitation after its base is reached, the expedition must of necessity be a community in itself. The various sections of the group will be divided but will maintain intercommunication by radio so that if one party meets difficulties others may go to its relief. Antarctic, like arctic, exploration is replete with dangers, both known and unknown. Careful preparation and equipment designed to overcome every conceivable difficulty should do much, however, to mitigate its hazards.

All men are courageous enough to think that the other fellow should bear his troubles without whining.

Hard times are just little intervals of timidity between periods of normal growth.

"All right," responded the husband gruffly. "Call her in."

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:24. Sun rises tomorrow 4:49.

A prominent doctor says it will be 50 years before the human race catches up with modern progress. If he will eliminate the information about automobiles we will agree with him. Humans sure are keen on new stuff about automobiles.

Knowing when to be silent is a great help.

Mr. Hoover candidate for president says he dislikes talking when he has nothing to say. He will have to get over that if he does any campaign work at all. After he is elected it will not matter if he says much or not.

Sewing circles are out of fashion—there is so little to sew.

Keeping house has not been so hard this summer. On account of the constant rain there has been no dust and as a result houses have not been dusty and it has not been necessary to dust much. We rubbed our lilly white fluke over some wood work in a house that has not been occupied for over a month and our hand had no dust on it and it left no mark on the woodwork.

Two students on a train were telling about their abilities to see and hear. The one says "Do you see that barn over there on the horizon?"

"Yes."

"Can you see that fly walking around on the roof of that barn?"

"No but I can hear the shingles crack when he steps on them."

The newspaper reporter listens to a campaign speech like a woman listens to reason.

It still is hard to figure out what a jury or a voter will do. Both do such queer things.

A bridge over a stream in Beaver county dropped into the stream one day last week while no one was on it. People have been traveling on it right long. Bet the last bird who crossed it thought seriously when he heard of it dropping into the drink.

Now that woman has become the equal of man may the Hints and Dints man suggest to her the wisdom of taking the cigarette out of her mouth before she pulls her nightgown over her head.

A wife beater at Lancaster Pa., was stoned by his angry neighbors. No wife beater is popular any more not even if his wife deserves a beating. Some times however the neighbors are sort of pleased when a wife gets a clout or two because she might deserve it and that is the only punishment she can get legally.

Rubes merely touch the hat instead of lifting it, but so would metropolitans if they had to salute 40 times to the block.

"Boss, does yo' want any spadin' done dis mawnin'?"

"I haven't anything to spade, Uncle. I live in a flat."

"Yas sah. Den maybe yo' needs some windows washed?"

"No."

"Or floors polished, sah?"

"Not now."

"Well, sah, would yo' mind lettin' me have a quarter g'inst de time yo' might need me?"

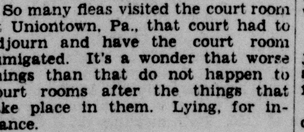

We went into a soft drink place yesterday and bought a drink that was pulled from a huge barrel on the end of the counter. A glass about the size of a bootleg was used and if we had not gulped it down instantly there would have been nothing left in the glass. Sweetened wind would be a good name for the drink. After we had it inside us we wondered what good it would do.

They have one good custom in Mexico. When some patriot gets too nasty they have what they call "summarily executed" after it is over and it is quite effective at least on the one most concerned.

A number of urchins boy like, were arguing which of their fathers made the most money, when the first of the lads broke out: "My dad is a poet and he just picks up a scrap of paper and writes a few words on it, sends it away and then a big pile of money will roll in."

"Why, my dad gets more'n yourn. He's a lecturer and he gets up in front of an audience, hollers out a few things and pulls down a big pile of money for it."

Third youngster (in a whining voice)—Huh. My pa has yourn beat, as he's a preacher, he is and every time time he preaches it takes six men to bring in the money."

It must be awful to have a baby boy and a rich uncle named Hezekiah.

Sometimes when burglars find a safe marked "Nothing in it, don't crack," they get mad and bust the safe up just to show their contempt.

It has been said that everything is put into the world for a purpose. While the hen lays the egg, it is the stork that bring the tax exemption.

The fellow who can get along in this world and be well thought of on just his conversation and plausible comment without it costing him anything else is doing pretty good, but he will not be missed much by poor people when he dies.

And when speaking of tomatoes we have also a dozen plants in our garden and there is not even a blossom on a single one of them. We will have tomatoes late on them, about Christmas if the frost keeps off.

A motorist in the south stopped for water at a dilapidated house where a barefooted man, leaning against a rickety fence was gazing across a field that had grown up to weeds. "How is your cotton this year?" the motorist asked.

"I ain't got no cotton. I didn't plant none 'cause I was afraid the boll weevil might be bad."

"How is your corn?"

"Well I didn't plant no corn either for I didn't know if we'd get rain."

The motorist hesitated. "How are your sweet potatoes?" he asked at last.

"Well now, stranger" the man replied, "you see it's just this way; I didn't plant no sweet potatoes 'cause I was afraid the bugs might take them. No sir I didn't plant nothin', I just played safe.

There seems to be nothing important on which to hang the report that suspenders are coming back again, at least not compared to the importance of the things on which one hangs suspenders.

So many fleas visited the court room at Uniontown, Pa., that court had to adjourn and have the court room fumigated. It's a wonder that worse things than that do not happen to court rooms after the things that take place in them. Lying, for instance.

In a letter received from Jake Rentz who is in California, he says he called on our old friend, Mrs. Kate McCormick, on a Saturday evening and the next day she was dead. All her children were there at the time, except Dennis, who lives in Los Angeles. The McCormicks formerly lived on the west side and have been in San Diego for four or five years.

Which is correct, please, in the way of speaking: "I see there are tomahtoes in the market again" or "I see there are tomahtoes in the market yet?"

Mr. Hoover says this will be no baby kissing campaign. That's right. We don't believe in any kind of kissing for publicity only or for the purpose of varying favor or humiliating the kisser.

It was in traffic court. The officer told his story briefly, stepped down and the defendant stepped up. The judge took him in hand.

"The officer says you were going 40 miles an hour."

"Very well your honor." The judge visibly nonplused by this looked him over keenly.

"Hum. You are the first motorist I ever saw who did not seem angry with the officer.

"Well it's the first compliment ever paid my old bus."

A woman in Paris shot and killed her husband while he was asleep because she did not want to die and leave him. Omigosh!

No matter how cleverly jails are being built there are always crooks who are clever enough to get out of them. Progress is not all one-sided.

We have never seen any human yap who tried to be a snob who wasn't really a slob.

A lady in Belgium whose husband was lost while flying in an airplane has asked her sons never to fly in an airship. She wants to keep some of the family, it seems.

When a beggar resented being called a bum and boasted that he had $20,000 in the bank he was sentenced in New York to the workhouse for six months. This bird was so dirty he was shunned by the police. One never can tell any more who has the money. Those who make the most show often have the least.

It is predicted that automobile production in the United States will be over four million copies, and more than ever before. Things are not so bad after all, but still people spend money for and on gas carts when they have nothing to eat.

An attempt will be made to raise about four million dollars to elect Mr. Hoover president of the United States. Out here in the sticks we naturally wonder what they do with all the money. The Hints and Dints man expects nothing for boosting him and we are sure the advertising columns will get nothing either.

Women have more backbone than men these days. At least they show more.

If some men did not have pretty fair wives they would not amount to anything at all. Any wife will admit that herself.

The color-blind person who can't distinguish brown from green has no trouble telling when he feels blue.

We think it an insult to call certain people we know pigheaded. It is an insult to the pig.

When a man both chews and smokes tobacco and then quits chewing and smokes all the time he has not gained anything. The only way to quit using tobacco or any habit is to quit and not do it any more. We know any one can quit any bad habit because we have quit 'em all.

"My boy Ben's got a grand old job now" said the village prune sampler. "Savin' money hand over fist."

"Yep?' said the grocer. 'What's Ben doin'?"

'He works all night and saves his lodgin'' and the sleeps all day and saves his grub."

It is true that the prodigal son came home in pretty bad shape but anyway he didn't bring any of his college chums with him.

Mexico's Danger.
Men, Women, Their Romances.
For the Discouraged.
No Baby Kissing.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Mexico faces the danger of religious civil war. Civil war is the worst kind of war and religious war is the worst kind of civil war.

Late news from Mexico predicts that Calles in spite of a constitution forbidding two successive presidential terms will remain in power.

In control of the army he can do anything, and constitutions are only made of paper—easily changed. He probably believes that Mexico's welfare demands that he continue and he may be right.

New York's Bureau of Social Hygiene including John D. Rockefeller, Jr., among its directors, supplies information on the romances of 100 men and 100 women, all married but not to each other.

The 100 men had had 681 love affairs, the women had had 677. Most of them happened before marriage.

Twenty-nine husbands and 41 wives continued their "romance" after they were married. Men's love affairs begin to die out usually at about 30.

Women start all over again after 40.

The New York statistics confirm Metchinikoff's statement that older women are often unhappy because they become really interested in romance when husbands of their own age get tired of it.

Plato and other Greeks had a plan to arrange that but even our free and easy age would not tolerate it.

Helen Keller was born blind and deaf. In infancy she could not hear, see or speak. She speaks, reads by her finger tips, "hears" what others say by putting her fingers on their lips.

Morris R. Dougherty with no legs and only one arm, runs his airplane unaided and plans a flight to Europe.

There are lessons for those discouraged by what they call "lack of opportunity."

Mr. Hoover, kindly but firmly says "I shall kiss no baby for publication." That is wise and kind to the babies.

No intelligent mother allows ANYBODY to kiss her baby. All adults carry in their mouths disease germs, harmless to the carriers but dangerous to the infant in whom the protecting white corpuscles are undeveloped.

Mr. Hoover did however hold the baby while its older brother took a photograph. He likes babies.

Secretary Kellogg says every nation can sign the world peace pact therefore Russia can sign. This country does not recognize the Bolshevik government in existence but a way will be found to let the Russians in perhaps.

That will please Europe, Germany especially. Living next to the Big Bear and knowing how revolution stimulates a nation's power for a while at least the Germans want a satisfied Russia.

Scientists are aroused by the new cancer "discovery" advancing the supposition that there is a substance or "fermentation" within the body that promotes tumor growth.

It is hoped that some other substance or "ferment" may be found to PREVENT such growth.

Some doctors suggest an all vegetable diet to prevent cancer. In a certain monastery where no meat is ever eaten none of the monks has cancer. On the other hand among savages on a meat diet no savage has cancer.

It would be interesting to hear from tribes within the Arctic and Antarctic Circle that eat meat and meat only.

Sir Thomas Horder, eminent authority says a mixed diet of vegetables and meat is best for cancer patients.

In 1927 every American farmer on the average made $157 more than he made in 1926. That's something, enough for the first payment on a new car.

But the average farmer in 1927 earned only $1,290 in all, less than the salary of an underpaid chauffeur in the city.

The farmer takes care on the average of 275 acres and he has to invest $15,445 to own the farm. No wonder farmers' sons go to the city.

Bible Thought For Today

A LASTING INHERITANCE — A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children: and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just.—Prov. 13:22.

PRAYER—May our children's children receive from us treasure which moth and rust cannot corrupt nor thieves steal.

CALL AGAIN

I am the lady of the house
And of the house I say
For I can seldom travel forth
As folks more able may.

But all who seek me at my door
In sunshine or in rain
I always smile and say to them
"Please won't you call again."

Often come those with wares to sell
To those I give no pain
And to the rugged traveler
I say, "please call again."

I know that there are those about
Who think me queer and plain
But a lonely heart finds happiness
In saying, "call again."

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE TROUBLE MAKER

"They that turn the world upside down have come hither also."

The theories of Carl Marx and of communism are not the only troublers of this world.

Strange enough, the Bible makes considerable trouble, if you mean by trouble the upsetting of old tyrannies and the getting down to human values.

For this Bible somehow goes upon the underlying principle that every human being is worth while, and that is dangerous to any old incrusted notions of caste.

One Bible society which has been distributing the book in China for a quarter of a century says, 'The reading of the Bible by the Chinese may be charged with a share of the responsibility for the breaking up of the old order in this country, the abandoning of old reverences, the stimulating of new ideas of independence and equality, which are now the slogans of political agitation."

"This book has sown new thoughts in the minds of multitudes which have prevailed in the old order of Chinese society," it goes on to say.

Another statement has been made that there has never been a revolution or a reform movement in China for the benefit of the common people that may not be traced to the work of the missionaries.

The inflence of Christianity upon a nation is profound. It is not directly political, but is based upon the principal that all men are equal. Hence it works hand in hand with the principle of Democracy.

More than the World War or any efforts of the politicians the Bible is making the world safe for Democracy.

So long as there is a child untrained or a human being wronged the Bible is a silent protest. We do not realize to what extent our civilization is indebted to the Bible and its teachings.

Its outstanding appeal to all men is for justice and fair play. The rebuke of the old prophets to the rulers of the world still has its echo and will always have until human affairs in state are set right.

So long as there are injustice and tyranny any where, so long as people are herded like sheep and have no say in their government, so long will the Gospel be something that brings to this world and its condition "not peace but a sword."

The message of the Bible is that righteousness and peace shall kiss each other and that there shall be no abiding peace until righteousness shall prevail.

The words of the poet are as true now as ever:

Silent stands the great Avenger,
History's pages but record,
One great struggle in the darkness,
Twixt false systems and the word,
Truth forever on a scaffold,
Wrong forever on the throne,
But that scaffold holds the future,
And behind the great unknown,
Standeth God within the shadow,

DEMPSEY

Jack Dempsey has pretty well paid his way with Uncle Sam. From the slugging festivals in which Dempsey has starred since he fought his way to the heavyweight championship against Jess Willard in Toledo, the United States government has collected nearly $800,000 in taxes. Adding the taxes paid by many others who profited by the battles, the amount passes into millions. Amusement taxes netted by the government in the last ten years amount to more than 500 million dollars.

WHAT DO THEY READ?

Dean Gray, of the College of Education, Chicago university, remarks that "the most voracious readers are to be found among the young adults between the ages of 17 and 30 years. Books have taken a back seat in matters of popular reading material in America. Newspapers come first in interest, magazines hold second place and books third."

If that is true it ought to give newspaper owners something to think about. If young people are going to take their impressions from today's newspapers it behooves the makers of those newspapers to give them some reading matter that is worth their time and attention. There are, fortunately, a number of newspapers in this country that are doing this very thing. The ones which are not doing it will not indefinitely continue in popularity and prestige.

TRUE SALESMANSHIP

In a recent commercial convention, salesmanship was defined as not merely the job of inducing people to buy a certain article, but rather as an orderly effort to spread health and comfort and knowledge. The salesman who does not take a long look at his job, who does not see his work as an opportunity for achieving something worth while, who does not think of himself as a man playing a part in the making of a better world, is not a true salesman and will not make an enduring success.

GROWING UP

The delay and the difficulty of growing up furnish one of the most interesting sidelights on man. Some time ago, in a student war participated in by members of the engineering and law departments of the University of Michigan, more than 4,000 eggs of varying degrees of freshness were thrown. All the way up through life the desire to throw eggs prevails and persists. A supposedly intelligent man once said that the thing he would like most to do would be to throw an egg into an electric fan. Another man said he craved the pleasure of jumping off a woodshed roof into a bathtub full of ice cream. There is no such thing as completely growing up. Perhaps it is just as well. A world full of actual adults would be a dreary place.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

CREEDS

Each for himself should make a creed
And base upon it every deed.
And out of it should every thought
Which shapes his character be wrought.

I care not what that creed may be
If good is the result I see.
Nor what the framework of the plan
If out of it is grown a man.

I have no pride in forms or words,
For thus a rustic drives the herds.
But kindness, truth and actions clean
Are signs by which man's soul is seen.

World-wide the strong man and the good
Is recognized and understood;
A high example all will teach
For deeds have universal speech.

The elevator boy was only ten years old and small for his age. Into the building wheezed a regular fat man, one of the kind that nobody loves. He eyed the lad for a moment and then observed:

"You're a pretty small boy to be runnin' an elevator ain't you bub?"

"Yes, sir" answered the boy and there was a twinkle in his eye. "But you see they hired me 'cause the ropes broke with the heavier boys." The fat man painfully wheezed his way up the winding stairway.

C. B. D.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

The Polish government is sending out nine special railway cars to cover every part of the country with instructions for the use of devices to protect individuals against gas and deadly chemicals in the next war.

The cars are constructed with air-tight gas chambers for testing masks, lecture rooms where the public will be instructed free of charge, and museums of chemical warfare.

I wish I could laugh aloud at this news, and tell you that I think the Poles are crazy.

But I can't.

* * *

In these piping times of peace, those of us who would admit that there may ever be another war are looked upon as suspicious characters.

Well, count me in among the suspicious ones.

I think the Polish government is doing a very wise thing for Poland. The Poles have always been very wise in behalf of their country. They have learned through centuries of fighting for self-preservation that it doesn't do to let the mice build nests in the gun-barrels during a period of peace.

The Poles look somewhat cynical upon all talk of perpetual peace. They've heard it before. And just when the peace talk grew loudest and the hymns of peace were ringing high, there happened a great battering on Polish front and back doors, and somebody's army was said to be just passing through. Please don't blame the Poles for being cynical about perpetual peace.

* * *

Also, the Poles do not take seriously all the treaties that forbid the use of gas and chemicals in future wars. I hope nobody takes that anti-chemical agreement seriously. Certainly our own war department doesn't. And the same conditions exist in other armies. To pledge a nation against the use of chemicals in the next war is like pledging dogs against using their teeth in the next dogfight.

The Polish government is doing a sensible thing, and much bigger governments might learn something from the little country that is going to save a few of its civilians when the chemicals begin to drop out of sky in the next war.

Music Floods Every Nook And Corner Of Cascade; Innovation Proves Success

When Morrell Starke's orchestra plays in the dance pavilion in Cascade Park, the music is heard throughout the eighty broad acres of New Castle's amusement center. That goes even though the softest of waltz strains are being played by the orchestra.

More than that, every afternoon and every evening, with especially selected programs for Sunday, concerts are given at Cascade that one may listen to with delight as he rows a boat on Crystal Lake, bathes in the great Cascade swimming pool, rests in one of the many beauty spots of the park, or plays along the midway with its varied rides, amusements and other attractions.

Manager Carl L. Shaner has made a distinct innovation at Cascade in the installation of a public address system which includes the very latest and best in sound transmission through uptodate radio amplification and first-class loud speakers. The system has just been installed, but already the afternoon concerts from 2 to 5 o'clock, the evening concert from 8 till 9 and then the broadcasting of the dance orchestra from Rainbow Terrace have proved to be a most delightful feature.

The installation is the first of its kind in any park in the country. It is a step in advance in the amusement world that carries new pleasure, new delight, to all who visit this spot of wondrous beauty, devoted to the recreation of young and old.

Two large exponential horns carry the music of the concerts and the dance program to the bathers in the swimming pools, where 5,000 bathers may be accommodated at a time; another sends the music across the lake to those in the fleets of boats and canoes; a fourth brings the concerts to the heart of the midway while the fifth and largest, equipped with four dynamic units of the latest design is in the dance pavilion.

This last loudspeaker not only carries the concerts to all in the vicinity of the dance pavilion, but is used to amplify the music of the dance orchestra throughout the evening's dance. This more than doubles the volume of the dance music, and so perfect is the reproduction, through the use of the most modern equipment, that one cannot be sure whether he hears the music direct from the orchestra or its reproduction through the loudspeaker.

The control mechanism is in the park office. Here too is a microphone for announcements, a new and decidely convenient aid to carry messages of picnic events to the groups scattered throughout the park, to summon parents to claim their children who have strayed and the like.

Operation Saves Life Of Woman As Vein Is Severed

Operation On Sidewalk Following Auto Crash Saves Life Of Woman In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—Due to the presence of mind of two physicians, who performed an emergency operation on the sidewalk after Mrs. Martha Baxter, 40, of Camden had suffered a severed jugular vein when thrown through the windshield of an automobile, the woman was alive and reported recovering at a hospital today.

The accident occurred last night when an automobile in which Mrs. Baxter was riding with her husband struck a tree. Her throat was cut by the glass in the windshield and death seemed inevitable within a short time. Dr. A. S. Ross of Camden, who was passing in another automobile, stopped and went to the victim's assistance, along with Dr. Claude B. Phillips, a police surgeon.

With their patient lying on the sidewalk the two doctors drew out the severed edges of her windpipe and inserted a trachea tube in order that she might breathe. The severed vein was hurriedly pinched together with small clamps and the victim rushed away in an ambulance. Another operation was performed at the hospital. The husband, Robert Baxter, 40, was severely cut and bruised.

SIX

VICTORIOUS MONTHS for THE VICTORY SIX

SIX

When the Victory Six was announced six months ago it was the talk of the town.

What would it look like? What would it do? Would it be different from other cars? In what way? And so on.

Then the public saw the Victory Six!

Its freshness of design was a revelation. It was different. Like no other car.

Rakish and trim—low and graceful—smart hued and colorful—it captured the eye. Immediately.

Look again. Wider seats—more leg space. Big! Roomy!

Then it proved, in operation and performance, the promise suggested by its beauty.

Swift pick-up—smoothness—speed.

Dodge Brothers dependability again!

It was a great car then; it is an even greater car now.

It has stood the test.

Each month has seen a substantial increase in Victory Six sales.

Not because of what we have been saying for six months. Or because of what we say now.

But because of what the Victory Six is.

The snappiest, best looking, speediest car in its class.

A car you should try out—now—yourself at the wheel.

Americans Know Value Of Dollar

United States Makes Profit Of 27 Per Cent On National Wealth In Year

BUT FIVE BILLION IN ACTUAL MONEY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Americans make their money work faster, longer and to better effect than any other people of the world.

This nation makes a profit of 27 per cent on its $355,000,000,000 national wealth every year, based on the internal revenue bureau's estimate of a $90,000,000,000 annual income.

There is just a little over $5,000,000,000 in actual money in the country, according to today's treasury figures. In other words, every physical dollar held by the government, the reserve banks and the public is forced to "turn over" 18 times every year in order to satisfy the demands of its owner.

While the total stock of money is counted as something over $8,000,000,000, nearly half is paper matched by an equal amount of gold and silver in the treasury's vaults. The gold and silver coin and bullion exceeds somewhat the paper money now outstanding.

The country's national wealth increased 16 per cent between 1912 and 1922, and considerably since the latter date, according to John P. Frey, high official of the American Federation of Labor in a comprehensive economic review.

Library Asks For Clubs Year Books

Work Of Preparing Bibliographies Is Done In Summer Months

Part of the summer work of the Public Library is preparing bibliographies for the club programs for the year books of the reading circles. Each person's subject is looked up and notes made of the material to be had on that subject. When anyone comes to the library for material on their subject, it is therefore ready to give to her.

In order to do this the library must have a copy of each club's year book during the summer. So far, only one club program has been received at the library, that of The Reading Circle. The library, therefore, requests that each club secretary send a copy of their year book to the library at her earliest convenience.

Highbrows get the publicity, but the country still is safe in the hands of people who enjoy the comic section and eat breakfast in the kitchen.

SERVEL
Electric Refrigeration

6 reasons why you will want the new Servel

1. Greater beauty and simplicity in design—inside and out.
2. Better construction and finish. Heavy pressed "Armco" steel with one-piece lining of porcelain.
3. Simpler, sturdier mechanical equipment—quiet, fool-proof and more economical to run.
4. The coldest refrigerant—hence the most efficient—in household use.
5. Greater freezing capacity—more ice trays—more cubes—easier to handle—quick to freeze.
6. Better temperature control—entirely automatic. No delicate devices to get out of order.

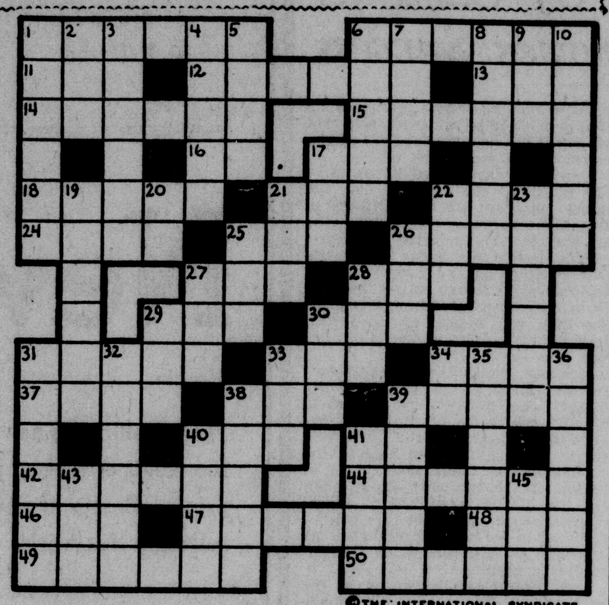

You can buy Servel on easy terms

Any of the Servel models, as well as the Servel installation in your own refrigerator, can be purchased for a moderate first payment and the balance spread over a convenient term of months. Ask for details.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

"You couldn't beat the monkeys at their favorite sport of making funny faces if you practiced every day for a year, Sonny-Bunny," chuckled Mrs. Bobolink, who had not yet entirely gotten over her chuckling fit. But Bobolink continued his tale that Sonny-Bunny had interrupted.

"The little make-believe humans all gathered about in a circle still swinging by their tails, and suddenly they began to do the queerest things! First one and then another would grab hold of a branch with his long, hairy arm and, twisting about, would look up at the parrots and glare with the silliest expression. It was too funny. Wifie and I giggled until the tears ran down our feathers. But how furious it all made the parrots! How they screamed and chattered and called and called the monkeys all the names they could think of and twitched their tails and threw down leaves upon their tormentors' heads and picked off pieces of bark with their bills and tossed it into the monkeys' eyes.

"But the monkeys didn't care a bit. They just went right on teasing. At last the noise grew so loud that we could stand it no longer. The monkeys and the parrots became so excited that they kept getting in each other's way. The monkeys swung themselves against each other and the parrots stepped upon each other's feet and hit their tails together. And by and by the monkeys got mad at the monkeys, and the parrots got mad at the parrots and commenced fighting among themselves.

"'Fluffy feathers, but this is awful,' whispered Wifie to me at last, and I whispered back, 'Let's get out of this while we can. The birds and the beasts are cross enough now, but, who knows, if they keep on fighting, what they will do. I have had enough of this monkey and parrot time, haven't you?' And she whispered back that she had, that enough was enough! 'Then follow me,' said I. I thought that I saw a way out. I remembered the directions that good old Toco Toucan had given me and, looking toward the sun, as he had said, I noticed that the light seemed stronger among the trees to the right of us. That must mean that they did not grow so thickly there. So looking cautiously about to see that none of the Parrots were watching us, I set off and close at my tail flew wifie.

"I need not have worried. The Parrots and the monkeys were so busy scrapping that almost anything could have happened without their noticing it. As for two tiny birds like ourselves, we might as well have been specks of dust for all the attention they paid to our going. We had left the high tree far behind us before the sounds of their harsh voices were lost. But we kept right on. We didn't like the jungle very much. Too many queer things were likely to happen. One never knew what lay behind the next bush."

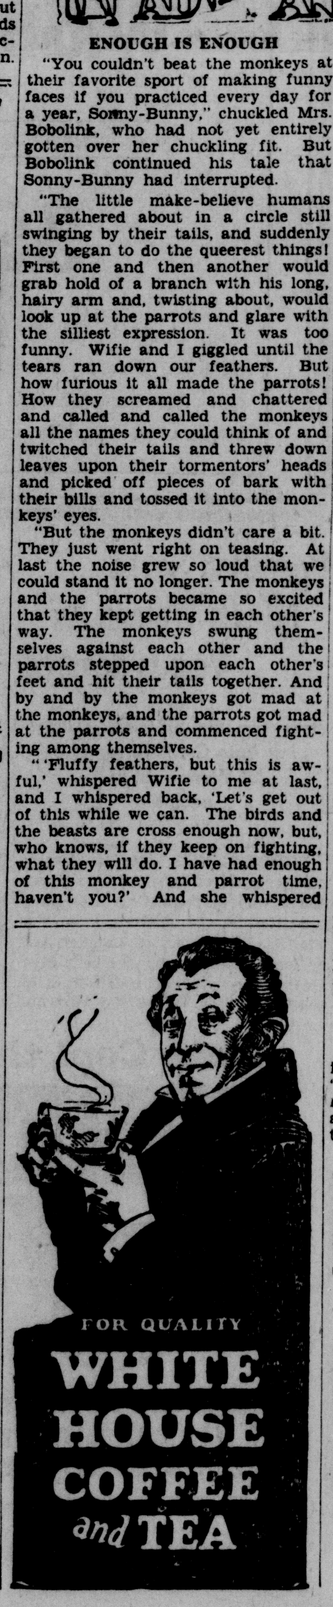

* * *

Next—"Where the Trail Divides."

"FIRST ONE AND THEN ANOTHER WOULD GRAB HOLD OF A BRANCH AND TWISTING ABOUT WOULD LOOK UP AT THE PARROTS."

Appropriation bill passed by house includes more than two millions for "extraordinary" expenses of the marines in Nicaragua. Well, it has been an extraordinary performance from the first.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Washes with hand carefulness

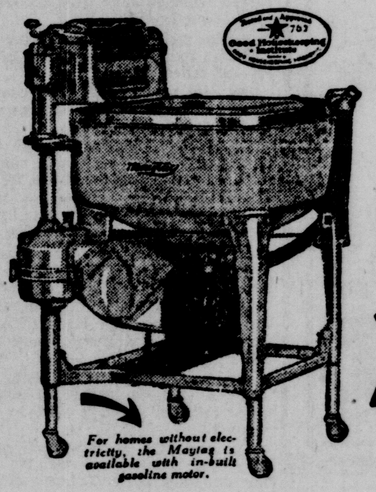

A LAUNDERING process which is too harsh for your dainty garments is also hard on coarse clothes. The coarse clothes may not show the abuse as quickly, but their life is shortened nevertheless.

The Maytag plays no favorites. It washes dainty lingerie or coarse grimy work-clothes equally well. The clothes are neither scrubbed, rubbed, nor pounded, but cleaned by the action of hot, soapy water in a satin-smooth, cast-aluminum tub. It is gentle, but thorough—even the stubborn edge-dirt of collars and cuffs is washed out without hand-rubbing. A big tubful is washed clean in 2 to 7 minutes, an average washing in an hour.

The Roller Water Remover

The soft top roll working against a hard bottom roll removes both soap and water evenly from all parts of the garment. The rolls do not harm buttons and buttons do not bite into the rolls. The Roller Water Remover has a Safety Feed, the drainboard reverses itself, the tension adjusts itself and pressure on the safety release instantly spreads the rolls five inches apart.

For homes without electricity, the Maytag is available with in-built gasoline motor.

Maytag dealers everywhere follow the standardized rule of sending a Maytag to a home to do a week's washing free, and without obligation of any kind. This is the way all Maytag Aluminum Washers are sold. The Maytag must sell itself solely upon its performance in the home. It must wash everything to your entire satisfaction. Must wash everything quicker, easier and cleaner than other washers. Must wash everything—even collars, cuffs and wristbands, without hand-rubbing. Must prove to you, in your own home, that it is the most helpful home-laundering unit you have ever seen or used.

How to Get Rid Of Piles Quickly

Stop That Terrible Itching Tonight.

A whole lot of people in America have got speedy relief and in a short time banished piles with Peterson's Ointment after expensive treatments had failed.

One Michigan sufferer writes: "Used Peterson's Ointment and after first application had a good night's sleep, the first in a long time."

Another from Pennsylvania says: "I like your Ointment for piles, it helped me more than any medicine I ever used."

And still another from South Carolina writes: "I have got more relief from sample of Peterson's Ointment you sent me than from $5.00 worth of suppositories."

Pretty nearly every druggist in America will recommend Peterson's Ointment—often a 35 cent box will end piles.

SCOTTISH RITE PICNIC EVENT ON AUGUST 8

Big Gathering To Take Place At Cascade Park During Coming Month

One of the largest picnics to be held at Cascade park this year or for a number of years in fact will be the Scottish Rite outing billed at that popular resort for Wednesday August 8 and already extensive arrangements have been made for the affair Committees have been appointed and are now hard at work making out elaborate programs for a big and eventful day.

There will not be a dull moment from the start to finish. No time has been set for the start which will be when the crowd gets there and the finish will come only when there is no one left in the park to enjoy themselves, all having become tired and left for their homes.

From reports there will be large crowds from all sections. Last week the electric caliope which holds forth at Cascade park and is quite familiar to the people of this city took a two days jaunt into Mercer, Crawford and Venango counties. It visited Greenville, Cambridge Springs, Oil City, Franklin, Harrisville and other small towns. Large banners on each side of the machine called attention to the outing.

This morning the machine left for Clarion, Brookville, Reynoldsville, DuBois, Punxsutawney, Indiana, Kittanning and other towns along the route. Another visit will be made into Washington and Westmoreland counties visiting McDonald, Canonsburg, Washington, Monongahela, Donora, Monessen, Greensburg, New Kensington and other towns in that section.

Notices of the picnic have been sent to all members of the New Castle Consistory and they are privileged to invite their Blue lodge friends and families even if they are not affiliated with the Scottish Rite.

The members of the Service Division and Legion of Honor two worthy organizations connection with the New Castle Consistory are backing the picnic to the limit and as a result its success is assured.

Knights Of Malta Annual Outing

Large Crowd At Event At Conneaut Lake; New Castle Sends Delegation

Knights of Malta and their friends gathered together Saturday at Conneaut Lake in large numbers for the anual Malta Field day event held at that place. It was the annual outing for the commanderies of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio which are affiliated together in what is known as the Northern Federation. Star of Bethlehem Commandery of this city was well represented. The committee and officers for the day had their headquarters at Hotel Conneaut. The I. O. O. F. band from Meadville played during the afternoon and evening.

There were a large number of sporting events in which there was keen competition. W. J. Ellison of New Castle, acted in the capacity of official starter. Miss Myers of New Castle was the lone winner in the sporting events from this city, she placing second in the egg rolling contest for women and also second in the ball throwing contest for women.

Star of Bethlehem commandery of this city sponsored the egg and spoon races for boys and girls, giving handsome prizes to those finishing first and second.

Members of the commandery assembled at the Temple of Music Saturday evening at 8 o'clock where the Red Cross and Sepulchre degrees were conferred on a large class of candidates by the South Hill degree team. There were a number of distinguished visitors in attendance including Charles J. Schmidt of Pittsburgh, grand commander of Pennsylvania; William Doerr the grand junior warden of Pennsylvania and the past commander of Ohio.

It was the largest gathering of Maltas ever held in this section and special credit for the success of the event is given to Past Commander Burtt G. French of Presqus Isle Commandery, Erie, Pa.

Medical Society Secretary Urges Use Of Certified Milk For Babies Here

In urging the mothers of New Castle and vicinity to use certified milk for their children, especially babies, Dr. W. A. Womer, secretary of the Lawrence County Medical Society and chairman of the society's milk certification committee, said in part:

"Certified milk is milk under the most sanitary conditions possible. The cows are tested regularly for tuberculosis and are examined at frequent intervals for other diseases.

"The stables are built so that plenty of air, light and room will be available, and so that everything will be made possible to keep the room scrupulously clean. The floors of the stables are covered with absorbent slag and before each milking the cows are clipped and washed. Feeding is not carried on in the barn in order to eliminate the dust.

"At the end of each milking the milk is poured into sterilized buckets, which are cooled before the milk is bottled into sterlied bottles.

"The milkers at the different farms, and there is just one in this vicinity, are examined at frequent intervals, and during their work wear white suits and caps. They are very particular about the cleanness of their hands.

"As soon as the milk is bottled it is placed in sterlied containers, which are kept at a low temperature until the milk is delivered, or until sold."

Dr. Womer declares that certified milk is of such a high quality that it is not necessary to heat it or treat it in any way, and is the safest milk for babies. Babies hard to feed should be given this milk, and all mothers should avail themselves of the opportunity to get it.

In concluding his discussion Dr. Womer stated that there are few cities the size of New Castle that have the fine chance we have of securing theis milk at such a low price. In New Castle it can be secured from any milk distributor.

WEAK WOMAN GETS STRENGTH

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lawrence, Mass.—"For years I suffered and would sweat cold and feel as if I would faint. At such times I could neither walk nor sit down with comfort and my work is sitting down all day. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound through friends I work with, and I began to take it as a tonic six months ago. I am much improved. I recommend the Vegetable Compound and you may use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. Marie Machera, 169 Oak Street, Lawrence, Mass.

How the most unpopular girl in the office became the favorite

FOR a moment she was stunned. It came so suddenly—so unexpectedly. She had smiled at Grace and Edith as she passed them. Why did they always act so cooly toward her, she wondered. Then above the click of the typewriters came the whispered words—"B. O."

Body odor! And they meant her! So that was why she was unpopular. So that was why the men and girls in the office never wanted her around.

This happened a few months ago. Today Margaret is the office favorite. Now her natural attractiveness and sparkling personality are unspoiled by the gravest of social offences—"B.O."

Now easy to end body odor

Nothing can ruin our chances of social and business success more quickly than body odor. The faintest hint of it destroys all our attractiveness—and turns people against us

Yet no one is safe from body odor. We must perspire—or we'd die. Even on cool days our pores give off invisible perspiration —often as much as a quart of odor-causing waste every 24 hours.

Our own sense of smell soon becomes deadened to this unpleasant odor. But how shockingly noticeable it always is to others.

Yet there's a simple way to keep safe—a way so delightful that millions rely on it—Lifebuoy. Just wash and bathe regularly with this purifying toilet soap. Its bland and abundant antiseptic lather deodorizes all pores—keeps you fresh.

Keeps complexions healthy

This same gentle, antiseptic lather is wonderful for the skin. By purifying face pores, it keeps complexions radiantly fresh and clear. Makes them glow with health. Lifebuoy also guards against disease, by removing germs.

Note its clean scent!

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, and which vanishes as you rinse. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

Trumbull Division Men Will Celebrate

Notable Safety Achievement For Three Month's Period To Be Celebrated

Trumbull division street car and bus operators of the Penn-Ohio System and their wives will celebrate tomorrow their notable safety achievement in the three-month period ended June 30.

In that quarter of the year the Trumbull men won the victory over the car and bus men of the Sharon and New Castle divisions of the P-O by operating their vehicles a total of 306,663 miles with only seven chargeable accidents.

The men thus set up a record of only one accident on the average in thirteen days and an average of 43,809 miles of operation per accident. This achievement is considered all the more remarkable in view of the fact that virtually all the Trumbull division operation is through city streets or on exceptionally busy highways.

Celebration of the victory will be in the form of dinner meetings noon and evening in the Hotel Warner, Warren. The noon meeting will be attended by the men who work in the evening and the evening dinner will be attended by those who work in the morning. Their wives will be their special guests.

Interesting programs of entertainment and addresses have been arranged by Superintendent T. C. Moore, Safety Supervisor Howard Shaner and Safety Committeeman Ralph Swegan. There will be music by the Penn-Ohio orchestra, a rural comedy skit by Roy Whittenberger and F. E. Thomas, of the Youngstown city lines and short talks by officials of the company and guests.

ELLWOOD MAN LOSES LICENSE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 23.—Revocation of 75 automobile drivers' licenses and the placing of 18 additional names on the prohibitory list were announced today by the Department of Highways.

Thirty-three of the revocations were made on charges of intoxication. They include F. E. Watson, Frank A. Rodgers, James Betker, Andy Dillen and Mike Mitruneck, all of New Castle, and Elmer N. Gift, of Wayensboro.

The licenses of John Sartori, of Sharon, was revoked on a charge of manslaughter and that of W. J. McDevitt, of Ellwood City, for transporting liquor.

New Castle Lady Restored To New Health And Vigor

Miseries Of Kidney Trouble And Sluggish Liver Ended By New Konjola Medicine.

MRS. ANNA SPANISH
Seavy Photo

Health is the greatest asset we can possess. Without it life is uninteresting and we never seem to attain the utmost happiness we all strive so hard to acquire. Many of us go on from year to year with that half-sick feeling that comes from a rundown and disordered inner-system; complaining of aches and pains and remarking about the tired, drowsy feeling that comes over us so often. Since the introduction of the new Konjola medicine, many thousands of people throughout the Central States and Middle West have voluntarily offered strong words of praise for Konjola and hundreds of men and women have given their signed statements to the Konjola Man at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, telling of the wonderful benefits they derived from this celebrated compound.

One of the latest to describe the new health received from Konjola is Mrs. Anna Spanish, Moore street, South New Castle Borough.

"I had been a sufferer for many years", said Mrs. Spanish, "first trying one thing and then another, before I ever knew there was a medicine like Konjola. But now since I have taken this compound it has ended all my troubles and restored new health to me.

"My whole system was badly rundown and most of my miseries were caused by a sluggish liver and disordered kidneys. These ailments gave me untold trouble and no matter what I took for relief, I continued to suffer. I think that these troubles were brought on by poisons and impurities in my blood. It never seemed to circulate in the proper manner and a peculiar numbness in my limbs was caused by this condition. Because of bladder trouble I had to rise several times every night and when I got up the next morning the first thing that I noticed would be a terrific pain in the small of my back that was almost unbearable. Finally I got so nervous most of the time and recently the least noise would upset me. There were pimples and skin eruptions on my face and body and in spite of everything that I did to correct this, they always came back.

"A friend of mine had been taking Konjola and has received amazing results from it. He advised me to give it a trial and so I started on the treatment. Before the first bottle was gone I began to feel better and I knew that this was the medicine for my case. My kidneys got stronger and now, I don't have to get up a single time during the night. Every ache and pain caused by them have been banished and I know that that ailment is permanently ended. Then Konjola regulated my liver and cleansed the poisons from my blood. Since Konjola did this the embarrassing skin eruptions have been cleared from my face and body. I have only taken four bottles of this medicine and yet, my health has improved one hundred percent. I am never nervous and my sleep is sound and refreshing.

"Konjola certainly is a wonderful medicine and I want to say once more that I am only too glad to indorse it to others".

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

Lumber Company Plant Is Entered

Several bits for the making of moulding and keys for a few of the downtown business houses were stolen Sunday evening when someone gained entrance to the office of the New Castle Lumber company on South Mercer street, it is reported to the police department.

Entrance was effected through the second story of the mill. From there the robbers went to the office where, with lathe tools, they took the lock off the door, getting into the office.

Wednesday evening the mid-week prayer service will be conducted at 7:45.

Dr. Buzza Preaches At Mahoning M. E.

Preaches At Both Church Services; Other News Notes Of Seventh Ward

Dr. Richard A. Buzza of Meadville, Pa., preached at both the morning and evening church services in the Mahoning Methodist church on Sunday, preaching interesting and inspiring sermons at each service. Dr. Buzza is a former Mahoningtown boy and the church auditorium was well filled at both services to hear him. Dr. Buzza is conference evangelist of the Methodist church.

Other features of the church services were a selection by the church choir at the morning service. At the evening church service the mixed quartet from the Central Presbyterian church was present and sang and Mrs. Shaw, also a member of the quartet, rendered a solo.

While here Dr. and Mrs. Buzza are guests at the home of their daughter and husband, Rev. and Mrs. D. D. Sleppy of Newell avenue.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Eagle Troop Girl Scouts of the ward will have a meeting this evening at the home of Miss Helen Wilson of Madison avenue at 8:30 daylight savings time.

STANDARD BEARERS

The Miner Circle Standard Bearers Society of the Mahoning M. E. church will have a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Mildred Tindall of Willow Grove, with Mrs. Myrtle Hamilton and Miss Minnie Tindall associate hostesses with Mrs. Tindall.

Cars will be at the Mahoning M. E. church between seven o'clock and 7:30 daylight savings time, to take the members of the society to the Tindall home.

PENNA-BO LODGE

Penna-Bo lodge to Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen will have their lodge meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Woodman hall.

MABEL WILSON LODGE

Mabel Wilson lodge, No. 567, to Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen will have their lodge meeting Thursday evening in the Daughters of America hall. The meeting will be at 7:30, Eastern Standard time.

BISHOP HEARD SPEAKS TONIGHT

Will Make Address In Bethel A. M. E. Church At Eight O'clock

Dr. W. H. Heard, newly elected bishop of the Third Episcopal District A. M. E. church, will be in New Castle tonight, and will speak in the Bethel A. M. E. church at 8 o'clock.

Bishop Heard's experiences have been varied and many. Having served as a member of the Legislature of South Carolina, Minister Plenipotentiary to Liberia, elected to the Bishopric in 1908, served in West Africa eight years, and since that time his services have been confined to the States, all of which eminently fit him for the great task which is now his to perform.

Indications are that a large crowd will hear him.

Boy Of Fourteen Years Is Missing

Bernard Thomas Goodman, aged 14, has been missing from his home since Saturday evening, July 21, it was reported to the police Sunday by his father, Thomas Goodman of 133 North Shenango street.

The lad is 14 years old and at the time of his disappearance wore a light tan suit with knicker trousers and tennis shoes. He has light hair and blue eyes.

The youth is supposed to be in the company of a boy 19 years of age, about five feet six inches tall and weighing 165 pounds. When last seen this older boy had on a light shirt with the collar rolled down, grey trousers and a grey cap.

PEACHES TAKEN FROM FREIGHT CAR

About 25 or 30 bushels of peaches were taken from a freight car belonging to the Italo Produce company Sunday evening when the car was on a siding near South Croton avenue, according to report to the police.

July 21, 1928.

Dear Brother Lion:

J. Clyde Gilfillan has recently returned from a tour of Europe and parts of Asia and Africa. He has an interesting story to relate of his visit to these countries.

We are fortunate to have him as our guest and entertainer tomorrow.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS I. ELLIOTT,
Secretary.

The Diary of a New Yorker
by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, July 23.—Manhattan, the amazing, has thousands of men who literally idle for their living. They are footmen, part of the trimming of the establishments they attend, such as hotels, resturants, apartment houses, shops, theaters and clubs. Now and then they break into something resembling action, bowing customers into autos, signalling taxis and occasionally motioning a deliveryman to a rear entrance. But the indispensible part of their duty is to look important and lend the place "an air." They wear all sorts of military-appearing uniforms. They are, in general quite useless fellows and nuisances. They are part of the silly show that New Yorkers have to pay for.

• • •

On the general assumption that society leaders, who are expected to be fashion leaders, but who usually are not, lunch at the smartest places, such as the Ritz, the Embassy, Sherry's, the Crillon, Pierre's and other ace restaurants, the so-called fashion experts of the various store merchandise organizations flock unbeknownst to each other, to these eating houses in the hope of spying out information of value by seeing what the Vanderbilts, Astors, Harrimans, Brokaws, Biddles, etc., are wearing.

The funny thing about it is that usually there are no social notables present, and so the fashion experts sit around eyeing each other in the belief that they're seeing society.

• • •

The owners of Broadway night clubs usually aren't known. Frequent raids, gang troubles and such make it desirable for sponsors of Gay Places to be anonymous. Headwaiters are paid to be the goats when there's trouble.

Incidentally, Texas Guinan is not an owner of the club in which she appears and which she has made famous. She is paid a straight salary, and knowing how transitorial night clubs are, she collects nightly.

One of the most colorful of the night club owners, whose identity is known, was a beer-truck driver a few years ago. He learned how to make gin in a bathtub and where to pay for protection (from rivals and highjackers) and set up his own business. He bought the night club to satisfy a whim. He is under 30 but his income is estimated at between $3,000 and $5,000 a week. He doesn't stay at the club very late because he doesn't like to worry his mother.

Student evangelists are sent to Coney Island to get experience. Visitors at the resort are considered the hardest audience in the world to get interested in religion.

• • •

To me the most interesting attraction at Coney Island is Miss Josephine Martin, trapeze performer.

I've never recovered from my boyhood worship of the beautiful ladies in pink tights who came to Lexington, Ky., each year with the Ringling Brothers, or Sells-Floto, or John Robinson, or Gentry Brothers' circuses, and did such astounding things upon bars high in the air.

Miss Martin shattered some of my ideas about lady aerialists. She's from Kansas and she's studying law in preparation for a career in the courts after stiff joints force her to retire from her "daring and classical display, performed with skill, grace and artistic ability." She learned aerial tricks at home, from her brother.

In hard times or prosperity, New York always has thousands of unemployed persons, for it is ever the Mecca of the hopeful. That is why it has more employment agencies than any other city in the world. Many of the agencies are unscrupulous in their relations with their patrons and practice all sorts of devices upon them to make money. Some of them are merely in the business to collect fees, and make no attempt to find positions for those who apply to them for help. Others foment schemes to get persons with sayings to invest money in an enterprise.

But there are 34 free agencies which give employment and vocational guidance.

The easiest person to place, these agencies have found, are young men. The hardest, elderly women.

Bruno High Scorer In Shoot Saturday

The Non Pariel and Industrial Rifle clubs held a shoot at Turner Farm range on the Butler Road on Saturday afternoon. Bruno was high man with a score of 48 in a 50 bird match. C. Turner was second high with a score of 47.

The next shoot of the club will take place on Saturday afternoon, July 28. The Industrial club would like to arrange a match shoot with Troop B or the Ellwood City Gun club.

Following are the scores of Saturday—Bruno 48, Smith 46, C. Turner 47, H. Turner 44, Crawford 42, Shaw 40, Harper 40, McDermott 40, Young 36.

Get 25 Bottles Of Beer In Visit

Twenty five bottles of beer and two cans of canned heat were the net results of a visit made Saturday evening at the home of Ed Collingwood of 116 Federal street by Lieutenant Hillers and Officers Criswell and Dukes, according to police reports.

Collingwood was arrested for being the keeper of a disorderly house. Four others were also arrested for being inmates.

Today all of the men are out on $10 forfeits.

Plan Stock Room For City Schools

Check On All School Supplies To Be Made Possible By Improvement

Work on the new administration building of the city school system which is located at the rear of the old North Street building is progressing rapidly according to the statement of Superintendent Dr. C. C. Green today.

The greatest improvement in this new building is the central stock room which fills perhaps the greatest need that the system had.

Supplies for the entire system of schools will be received and checked here and it is hoped by this system that a greater check can be made and thus a greater saving for the city taxpayers.

Work has already begun preparatory to moving the files and materials. The various departments that will be in the new building expect to be located there after August 15.

Change Desks In North Street School

Desks From Martin Gantz School Are To Be Used In Building

Workmen are hauling the chairs and desks of the North Street Junior High school over to the old Martin Gantz school building today and storing them there. They will remain there until a shortage or emergency calls for their use again.

The chairs and desks for elementary children that have remained in the Martin Gantz building are being transferred to the North Street building to be used this year.

The chairs now being hauled from the North street building are suited to the needs of old pupils and as the building is to be used as an elementary school next year, the change of furniture was necessary.

Repeater Before Mayor Gets Sentence To Work

"Hello, Dan, so you're here again?"

"Yes, mayor, I guess I'm one of these repeaters we read about in the papers."

Police court had opened. Dan had staggered in from the cell rooms, still reeking of bad liquors. Dan, by his own confession, was still drunk. Dan did not seem to worry much about it, for he and the mayor are the best of friends.

The last time that Dan had been up before the court the mayor had let him go—that is, if he would promise not to be brought in again. However, the spirit may be strong and the flesh weak. Or that is how Dan feels about it.

"What have you been drinking, Dan?" the mayor asked.

"Oh, whiskey, and some bay rum," replied Dan cheerfully. A smile spread over his face. Perhaps the mayor would be kind to him again and send him back to the cells to sleep it off, then letting him go.

But no such luck. "Dan," the mayor said, "I guess you can work around the city hall for five days. Now go back to the cells until you are in condition to do some work."

Dan twisted his cap in his hands, standing on one leg like a naughty school boy. The grin still remained.

"Thanks, mayor," he said as Sergeant Jimmie Steiner led him back to the cells.

Traffic Lights Go On Strike For Few Minutes Today

Motorists were perplexed. The traffic lights on Washington street went out on strike at noon. They would not turn red, neither would they turn green. They stayed on yellow.

It was at the corner of East and Washington streets that most of the trouble occurred. But Officer Tommie Lynch soon rectified that. Grabbing his coat, he hustled out of the police station, and with many thumb jerkings, directed traffic. Other intersections were unguarded, but motorists seemed to know something was wrong. They proceeded carefully.

All this happened at noon today. It only lasted for a few minutes, and the traffic lights went back on their regular schedule again.

FARRELL POLICE CLEAR ROBBERIES

(International News Service)

FARRELL, Pa., July 23.—The attempted safe-blowing at the Thorn and Dunn garage and several petty robberies are today believed to be cleared up with the arrest of James Burnfield, 33, of Steubenville, O.; Edward Lacamera, 23, and Howard Windknecht, 25, both of Farrell. Police say the men have confessed.

Rebuild Bridge At Camp Henderson

Engineers Build Bridge At Mt. Gretna Replacing One Hit By Storm

(International News Service)

CAMP HENDERSON, Mount Gretna, Pa., July 23—Field training today occupied the 4,000 troops of the 20th division, National Guard of Pennsylvania, under the command of Major General William G. Price, Jr., of Chester.

Colonel Jackson W. Study's regiment, the 103rd Engineers Adelphia, began work on a new bridge to replace the old one at Lake Conewago that was washed away during a storm.

The 112th infantry regiment, Colonel C. Blaine Smathers commanding, containing companies from Erie, Grove City, Bradford, Ridgeway, Franklin and other western Pennsylvania cities, marched to the rifle range for instruction on the new 75 foot practice range.

The 111th infantry regiment of Philadelphia, Colonel Charles B. Finley commanding, received instruction in military courtesy, the making of military packs and later in digging sections of firing trenches, topping trenches and entanglements and placing outguards while the work was in progress.

Major General Price left the encampment last night to visit the 53rd field artillery brigade at Tobyhanna under the command of Brigadier General William S. McClean, Jr., of Wilkes-Barre.

MINER SUICIDES NEAR LEESBURG

Body Is Found In Woods Near Leesburg Late Saturday Afternoon

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., July 3.—Samuel Costanza, aged 45, a miner employed by the Sharon Coal and Limestone company at Mine No. 5, near Leesburg, was found dead in the woods Saturday afternoon a victim of suicide.

Near the body of Costanza was found a shotgun that had evidently been used by the man in his suicidal attempt. The top of Costanza's head had been blown off by the charge of the gun. Officials started an immediate investigation of what looked like a murder case, but arrived at tne suicide verdict upon learning that Costanza had been worried for days.

It was learned that Costanza had purchased a farm about a year ago and had suffered financial losses and this is believed to have driven the man to take his life.

Costanza is survived by a widow and five children. Funeral services were held Sunday.

Smokes In Bed; Firemen Called

A cigarette smoked in bed caused the fire companies to respond to an alarm from 1103½ Sciotto street at 1:50 Sunday morning. When they arrived, they found a mattress owned by Don Bartos and lately occupied by one of his boarders in flames.

The boarder, it is stated, fell asleep with a cigarette in his hand. Soon there was smoke, then fire, and then the alarm. Damage is estimated at $25.

TO OPEN ALLEY

Council today reported from committee two ordinances introduced at today's session held in city hall which provides for the opening, locating and establishing of an alley between Cherry street and Madison avenue. The alley is to be graded, the width fixed and paved.

As Friend Sees Al

Candidate Smith Pictured As Kind Man, With Tremendous Mental Capacity And Knowledge Of Government

Dr. Henry Moskowitz

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a companion article to "Herbert Hoover Through a Friend's Eyes," written by Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university.)

By DR. HENRY MOSKOWITZ

New York Sociologist and Writer. Author of "Up From the City Streets," and Editor of "Progressive Democracy." Written Especially for Central Press.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Alfred E. Smith is one of the few men who is a hero to his valet. The closer one is to him, the bigger looms his stature. That is why his neighbors and his friends are so enthusiastic about him.

He is big, not alone about big, but also about little things. I have seen him as considerate about the scrubwoman in the New York state capitol as he is about the executive budget and the taxes needed to support it.

Loved by Children

Little children love him. They have an unerring intuition about his humanity. If you want an insight into the soul of this man, watch him with the dumb animals in his private zoo in the grounds of the executive mansion at Albany, or observe him as he listens to the heart-rending story for the commutation of the sentence of an erring son.

He has the tenderness of a Lincoln. He has the strength and courage of a Cleveland. No governor has said "No" to politicians as frequently as Smith.

His cabinet is his own. Like Roosevelt, he listens to the suggestions of the politicians—but he alone sets the standards of his appointments. Considering the high type of men and women constituting his cabinet, we have a right to expect, if he is elected, a cabinet of outstanding men and women chosen primarily for their qualifications, and only secondarily from geographical political considerations.

Smith has a first-rate intellect. I have seen him grapple with complicated legal problems in the presence of New York state's most distinguished lawyers, evoking their admiration.

Self-Educated Man

I have observed him fascinate engineers with his grasp of complicated technical problems of transportation and construction.

Sometimes I think it is fortunate that Smith had no college education. With his marvelous memory, his mind is not encumbered with excess baggage. He has the brain capacity of getting at the essentials of a question and throwing off the unessentials. His mind has not been spoiled by a conventional drilling. He has kept its freshness. It explains his gift of simple language, and his ability to make the man in the street understand the most complicated questions of government and state finance.

Al Smith is the best teacher of government and civics today in the United States.

Probers Even Delve Into Cost Of Ballot Printing In 1926

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—Efforts to show that the Philadelphia county commissioners paid too much for ballots in the 1926 Vare-Wilson senatorial election were made by attorneys for William B. Wilson, Democratic candidate, when the Waterman senate committee resumed its hearing on the contested election here today.

George S. Dunlap of the Dunlap Printing company, took the witness stand and was questioned by A. E. Hurshman, one of Wilson's lawyers, in an attempt to show that prices were not the same at the primary as the general election in 1926.

"The original bid for 1926 general election ballots was $43 for regular ballots and $40 for the regular ballots and $45 for samples?" the attorney asked.

"That's easy," said Dunlap. "When we made the original bid there were no loan bills attached on the ballots. When more work was added to the ballot we had to raise the price slightly."

Edward A. Kelly, chief counsel for Senator-Elect William S. Vare, protested that the printing of ballots could have no effect on the result of the questioned election and was sustained by Chairman Waterman.

Circus Workmen Killed In Crash

Five Laborers With Bernardi Greater Shows Killed, Eight Others Injured

(International News Service)

FARMINGTON, N. H., July 23.—The public must be amused and the circus must go on, so the Bernardi Greater Shows proceeded with its schedule today despite the death of five laborers of the carnival troupe in a railroad accident here yesterday. The five men were killed and eight others injured when five flat-cars in the show's 20-car train were wrecked by a falling drawbar near here. Two others are missing.

One of the five victims was identified as William Glienicka, colored, of Philadelphia.

Slightly Injured In Auto Collision

Mrs. Mary Kaher of Farrell, George Saley and Josephine Saley, the latter of Woodlawn, received slight abrasions yesterday when an auto in which they were riding figured in a collision with another automobile along the New Wilmington highway.

After receiving treatment at the Shenango Valley hospital the persons were discharged.

Six Killed By Auto Accidents Over Week-End

Six Dead, Thirty-Five Injured Saturday And Sunday Auto Toll In State

(International News Service)

Despite the fact that thousands of Pennsylvania motorists took to the highways enroute for beaches and picnic grounds this week end there was an unusually small toll of deaths and injuries in automobile accidents, the International News Service weekly survey today revealed.

The most serious accident reported over the week end was a street car crash in Braddock in which two children lost their lives and a score of persons were injured. Only six deaths were caused by auto accidents while 35 persons were injured, 23 of these in the Pittsburgh district.

Lightning killed one person at Columbia and injured two others, while one drowning was reported at Pittsburgh. One person was killed by an auto at Wilkes-Barre and three were injured; three were hurt at Middletown, one at Gettysburg, one at York, one person was killed and two hurt at Chester, while three Philadelphians were killed in New Jersey. One person was killed at Butler and two hurt at Franklin.

To Finance K. O. P. Campaign With Small Donations

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Although refusing to set a limit on campaign contributions, the Republican National committee plans to make a real effort to finance the election fight with small donations, National Treasurer J. R. Nutt declared today.

With the acceptance of John W. O'Leary, Chicago banker, of an invitation to head a small contributions' drive, plans were being formulated to hold a "tag day" throughout the country.

The committee headed by O'Leary will seek contributions under $100. Every contributor, under the plan, will receive a receipt.

Miner's Board Will Meet At Clearfield

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD, Pa., July 23.—To determine the wage scale policy of the Central Pennsylvania bituminous locals of the United Mine Workers of America, the board of District No. 2 was to meet here shortly before noon today.

Operators here refused to discuss the latest move of the U. M. W., and just how they will receive any proposal that may be made as a result of today's meeting of the union officials was unknown.

ONE DRUNK

Only one drunk responded to the call of the sergeant at Sunday police court. He was given a sentence of five dollars or five days.

Speaking of belated farm relief, what about the recent "April showers?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

African Snake Lily Flowers Blooming On Spruce Street

One of the strangest floral oddities to appear in this vicinity for some time, a plant which for once does, to a great extent, resemble its name—the African snake lily—is being displayed by Mrs. Laura Croix at her flower garden to the rear of her home at 616 Spruce street.

To be more exact, we might say that there are two different types of this unusual flower, which in several ways appear more like a small tree than a flower. There is the plain African snake lily and the umbrella African snake lily, whose leaves are shaped much like a raised umbrella, from whence it gets its name.

At first glance one's attention is attracted to the snakelike stock which both of the varieties bear. Being just about the same thickness of a snake's body and being coated with green and white dots, it naturally takes on a reptilian appearance. "It made me quiver to touch the stock for a time," said Mrs. Croix, who continued: "But I'm used to it now and it doesn't bother me a bit."

Mrs. Croix states that the bulb of the larger plant, whose stalk rises almost five feet in the air, topped the scales at three and a quarter pounds when weighed last year. The smaller bulbs weigh about two pounds.

Some patience must be exercised in growing the lilies, for as Mrs. Croix says, the plants do not begin to bloom until about the fourth or fifth year and it is possible to get discouraged during that period of time. The larger plant's bloom takes on the appearance of a broad lily, while the smaller ones shoot forth a flower similar to the jack-in-the-pulpit.

The plants multiply at the roots and the bulbs become more numerous as the flower grows. This year the larger plant will be five years old, while the smaller lilies will be four years old. Mrs. Croix declares that she is not certain whether or not there are others similar to them in other parts of the city, for the bulbs of her specimens were brought here from Scranton.

Almost every day Mrs. Croix is at her home showing the imported oddities to her friends and others who come to see them. And the lilies are not alone, either, for Mrs. Croix has surrounded her home with practically every type of flower. Many of them, including the beautiful one-day shell flower, are "out in all their glory" today, and if there is anybody in New Castle who desires to view the beauties, Mrs. Croix would be only too glad to have them come to her home on Spruce street.

Chemical Data Given U. Of P. By Dr. E. F. Smith

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 23.—Treatises and discoveries in chemical research made by the late Dr. Edgar Fahs Smith during his lifetime have been compiled into a collection and presented to the University of Pennsylvania by his widow, Mrs. Margie A. Smith, it is announced.

The collection, which is said to be priceless from the standpoint of chemical research, will be preserved intact in its present setting in the Harrison Chemical Laboratory at the institution. Dr. Smith, who was an internationally known chemist, was provost of the university for ten years.

With the acquisition of the collection, which will be known as "the Edgar Fahs Smith Memorial Collection in Historical Chemistry," the university is making special arrangements to safeguard it, following which it will continue to be accessible to visitors and to students of the history of chemistry, many of whom during Dr. Smith's lifetime had frequent recourse to it for study and research work.

TONY RECUPIO GETS HIS TROPHY

New Castle Lad One Of Fortunate At Camp At Fort Washington

By FRED J. BLAHA.
(Special News Correspondent.)

FORT WASHINGTON, Md., July 20—Friday all baseball enthusiasts were given a treat. Hembers of the Washington and Detroit teams journeyed to Fort Washington to show the fellows how the game is played. Joe Judge, Al Schack, Nick Altrock and Sam Rice were the members of the Washington team while Bob Fothergill and Harry Heilman hail from Detroit. Each of the players gave short talks which proved very interesting. After which Nick Altrock and Al Schack presented a sketch contrasting regular style and slow motion style baseball. It was very amusing.

Then to add a litle 'spice" to the program approximately two dozen baseballs were batted out to the individual platoons. Each platoon took the field alone so that the competition narrowed down somewhat. Each ball batted was autographed by the members of their respective teams. Fortunately none of the boys were hurt in the scramble for a ball. One ball will go back to New Castle. Tony Recupio was the lad lucky enough to gain possession of it.

Wednesday Company I copped all honors in the parade in which all four companies took part. There was a good deal of celebrating that night but no damage was done. The fellows were just working off a little surplus energy although Charles Clark did find a catfish in his bunk.

At the time of this writing about 75 fellows are lined up at the orderly tents, the tank of the companies. At their arrival each fellow was requested to put all but a few dollars in safe keeping. This advice was followed by most of the fellows. Once a week they are permitted to draw out funds for the next week.

In the line I see Frank Babiary waiting for funds to buy a souvenir for a certain party back home. This excuse is about worn out here at camp. Refreshments probably make the biggest hole in the fellow's pocketbook.

In the boxing tournament Frank Steede of Ellwood was successful in his first bout. Thereby being qualified to continue his march toward the crown. We are all rooting for him. Frank McCay also won his bout and is fighting with full fledged support.

Today the semi-final field meet was held and a number of fellows from Company I have qualified. It looks as though we stand a strong chance for the winning of the championship.

A number of the fellows have signed up for a trip through Mount Vernon. A good time has been promised to those making the trip.

RELIEVED AFTER SUFFERING FOR 20 LONG YEARS

Wife Tells How Ten Herbs Ended Husband's Awful Stomach Trouble

Many instances where the great natural medicine, Ten Herbs, has given amazing relief, are being reported to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating this successful herbal medicine to crowds of men and women. In some cases there had been long suffering and many medicines were tired in vain.

"My husband, Mr. Reuben Webb, had stomach trouble the last 20 years, but Ten Herbs has given him complete relief," was the statement of Mrs. Reuben Webb, 431 Noblestown Road, East Carnegie, Pa., (near Pittsburgh), to the Ten Herbs Man. "Before using your medicine he had to be very careful what he ate, as almost every kind of food distressed him," Mrs. Webb continued. "Once he lived on a malted milk diet for three weeks. Nearly everything would ferment in his stomach and form gas. He was always tired and at times could not work. He did not rest well at night, and sometimes was very nervous.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the papers, and we decided that he should give your medicine a fair trial. The third bottle certainly made a great change for the better in him. His stomach has been benefited so much that he can eat anything without being distressed. He is no longer troubled with gas. His appetite is very good, and he is gaining weight. He is not a bit nervous and rests well at night. He works every day, and does not have that tired feeling any more. In fact, my husband feels fine in every respect. We do not hesitate to recommend Ten Herbs to our friends and the public."

Ten Herbs is Nature's own medicine for stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and has a cleansing, soothing, correcting effect on the entire system.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Minor Traffic Accidents Here

Number Of Mishaps Are Reported To Police Over Week End

Traffic accidents of only a minor nature occurred in New Castle over the week end, according to the reports made to the New Castle police department.

H. H. Krey of Pittsburgh, reports that when he was going east on East Washington street late Sunday afternoon, a machine bearing Ohio license 881-997 bumped into the rear end of his car at the corner of Mercer and Washington streets. Some damage was done, but no one was hurt.

While going west on East Washington street, a car carrying Pennsylvania license 776-228 crashed into the rear end of the machine of A. M. Snodgrass of Collery, Butler county, doing considerable damage.

Saturday evening, James Gross of R. F. D. 4, reported to the police that a car bearing Ohio license T51-372 crashed into his machine on East Washington street, doing some damage. No one was hurt.

L. L. Shira of 507 East Main street was hit by a car bearing Pennsylvania license 765-367 Saturday evening at the corner of Washington and East streets. No one was hurt.

While driving west on the East Brook road, Elmer Tinamen of 232 West Moody avenue reports that a boy riding down a hill on a coaster wagon, ran into his machine. The boy was taken to a medical doctor at New Castle, who said that he was not injured, and then was taken to his home by Mr. Tinamen.

Three Inches Of Rain Last Week

With an average high temperature of 87 degrees recorded at the weather bureau station at the pump station, the hot weather continued through last week. Both Friday and Saturday stood high when it came to hotness, for on both days the thermometer jumped to 92.

Almost three inches of rain fell during the week. Thursday, the night of the big rain, there were 1.83 inches of precipitation. Only one day, Tuesday, was wholly clear; on the rest it either rained or was partly cloudy.

EASTBROOK

W. C. T. U. MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the East Brook W. C. T. U. was held last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Moore. The meeting was opened with the scripture reading by Miss Ruth Young, after which Mrs. D. B. Sergeant led in prayer. The roll call was answered by replies to "How We Could Help Law Observance," with the Misses Grace Patterson, Virginia Morton and Ruth Young reading. Visitors were Miss Mary Jane McNight and Mrs. Helen Patterson. Miss Mary Jane McNight, a returned missionary from India and a local girl gave a very interesting talk on "The Styles and Customs of the Natives." Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members present: Mrs. Anna Pontius, Mrs. J. A. Young, Mrs. Bell Richael, Mrs. S. W. Stunkard, Mrs. Jean Martin, Mrs. George Patterson, Mrs. D. B. Sergeant, Mrs. T. J. McNight and the hostess.

ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reiber entertained a few friends in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Reiber and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McKee, two recently married couples. Music and "500" were enjoyed by the guests and the honor guests received many beautiful gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Patterson.

Those in attendance were the Misses Bertha Braatz, Anna Waddington, Edna Waddington, Ruth Young, Martha Smith, Louise Wettick, Ruth Stunkard and the Messrs. Glenn Patterson, Philip Sergeant, Walter McKee, Harry Bauman, Paul Bagley, Everett McCreery, Boyd Stunkard, Norman Young and Theodore Warnock, Mr. and Mrs. John Reiber, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Covert, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Patterson and baby, Mr. and Mrs. John Braatz and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reiber and sons Donald and Junior.

IN MEMORIUM.

In loving memory of dear husband and father, Domenico Tutino, who died one year ago today, July 23, 1927.
One year has passed since that sad day
He bid no one his last farewell,
He said good-bye to none.
The one we loved was called away
God took him home—it was His will.
But in our hearts he liveth still.
Sadly missed by his loving wife and children.

Many Attend Union Service On Sunday

Rev. J. R. Routledge Gives Splendid Address Before Good Hot Weather Crowd

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—In spite of the hot weather and threatening storm, a good crowd attended the fourth of a series of ten union services which took place Sunday evening in the auditorium of the Methodist church.

The preacher of the evening was the Rev. J. R. Routledge, pastor of the North Sewickley and Park Gate Baptist churches. His theme was "The Three Tabernacles" and his sermon was most interesting.

The music of the evening consisted of a lovely vocal duet by Mrs. Emmet Leibendorfer and Mrs. Elmer Greenham, who rendered "I Shall Know Him". The members of the audience and choir also sang, led by Homer Welch of Grove City.

Pleasant Picnic Honors Visitor

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—Honoring Miss Mary McClung of Pittsburgh, who is spending the week as the guest of the Bruce Hunters of West Short street, a group of people enjoyed a picnic at Cascade park Saturday evening.

Previous to the luncheon a swim was enjoyed in the park pool, followed by a delicious menu. Later the party toured the amusements of the park.

Those enjoying the affair were Miss McClung and Clyde Phillips of Pittsburgh, Miss Margaret Long, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moltrup, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin French, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seidel, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Haines, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. Burton J. Bell.

Local Knights Enjoy Picnic

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—About thirty local Knights of Malta motored to Conneaut Lake Park Saturday and enjoyed the annual Knights of Malta picnic of this district. The picnic opened with a parade which started at the Temple of Music and the large crowd that was expected, fell slightly short on account of weather conditions.

The Conneaut Lake hotel was the headquarters for the organization, and a pleasant day was enjoyed by all in attendance. In the evening about forty-two members received the impressive Red Cross degree from the crack Pittsburgh Degree team.

RETURN FROM MOTOR TRIP THROUGH STATES

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23. — Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Moore of Park avenue, returned Saturday evening from a post-nuptial trip of two months through the western states, Pacific coast and Canada. They motored the entire way with the exception of the distance between Ellwood City and Detroit, where they left their car, en route home. They will be at home to their many friends at their residence on Park avenue.

CLUB OFFICIALS TO ATTEND SPECIAL MEETING THURSDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—President H. D. Patterson and Secretary C. P. Cloak of the local Rotary club will attend a special meeting Thursday noon of the district Rotary Presidents and Secretaries to take place at the Broadhead hotel in Beaver Falls.

Repair Flood Damage At Beach

According to Proprietor John Rung all of the damage done to Lakewood Beach by last Thursday night's heavy deluge has been repaired at a cost of several hundred dollars and everything has been restored to usual shape again.

Mr. Rung states that owing to the suddenness in which the storm came upon the vicinity it was utterly impossible to open the flood gates which are held in readiness for such emergencies in order to release the heavy pressure of water behind the dam causing the water to overflow the lower dam and leaving considerable loss in its wake. The flood gates were opened Friday morning and the water returned to its regular channel, there preventing an even greater loss.

Open Grading Bids For Vogan Street

When council convened in formal meeting at the city building bids were opened for the grading of Vogan street between East Washington and Cascade streets. The city engineer's estimate of cost is $765.

Bids opened are as follows:

Woods & Golder, $1,050; Elder & Ferry, $1,030, and M. J. Scanlon, $980.

Council referred the bids to the city engineer for a report and recommendation.

Cincinnati is a much improved city since it adopted the manager form of government, says an expert observer. So, there's still hope for Chicago.

Few Activities In Local Churches

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—Summer activities in the local churches are few in number compared with the full week of events during the winter months. Activities announced so far are:

Christian Church.

Wednesday evening prayer meeting at 7:30 o'clock and choir practice at 8 o'clock. Thursday evening members of three young women's classes will give a social in the basement of the church. Saturday all day is set aside for the annual Sunday school picnic. Supt. A. J. Howell is in charge of all committees.

Bell Memorial Church.

Wednesday evening the regular weekly prayer service at 8 o'clock. Thursday evening members of the Allison Memorial Bible class will meet at the home of M. A. Bickett on Orchard avenue.

Presbyterian.

There are no activities scheduled in the First Presbyterian church this week, owing to the fact that Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Stevenson leave Tuesday morning by motor for Spruce Creek Sunday school camp, where Rev. Stevenson will teach three classes. They will remain about two weeks.

D. F. Houk Funeral Services Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—Funeral services for D. F. Houk, who passed away at his home in Shenango township Saturday morning, will take place Tuesday afternoon from the Harmony Baptist church. Interment will take place in the Harmony Baptist cemetery.

ELLWOOD PERSONALS

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Hayes and family of Second street motored to Cambridge Springs Sunday to visit Mrs. George Pugh, who is confined to a hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Davidson and family motored to East Brook Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Houk and family and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bickett and family motored to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie picnic on Saturday at Idora park. Young James Bickett won the first prize for the 50-yard dash.

Clyde Phillips of Pittsburgh was a week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moltrup of Beaver Falls were Ellwood visitors on Sunday evening.

Miss Mary McClung of Pittsburgh is spending the week here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hunter of West Short street.

Mrs. Lief Von Krogh and family of Second street left Saturday morning by motor for Cincinnati to visit relatives.

Prof. and Mrs. Dwight Conner and family of Fourth street left Sunday on a two weeks' motor trip through the east.

ENJOYING CAMP DESPITE RAINS

Boys At Y. M. C. A. Camp Are Having Great Time At Summer Camp

In spite of the continued heavy rains, activities are progressing at the New Castle Y. M. C. A. boys camp on the banks of the Slippery Rock creek. Mock trials are held, track meets take place, and the boys have a baseball and basketball league.

Saturday afternoon the New Castle boys played the Butler campers on the New Castle camp field, beating them by a score of 13 to 4. Harris pitched a steady game, and Ramsey caught. The game was featured by the hitting of Shaffer and the base running of Tom Rodgers.

At a track meet held last week, James Sotus proved himself to be the best running broad jumper in the camp, when he leaped a distance of 14 feet 8 inches. Jim Waddington took the laurels for the standing broad jump at a distance of seven feet six inches. Manning Weller and Jack Llewellyn tied for the free baseball throw for accuracy.

Attend Meeting At Conneaut Lake

A number of residents of this city, members of the St. John's Lutheran church on East North street, motored to Conneaut Lake Sunday morning to attend the closing service of the Pittsburgh synod, Lutheran assembly, which was in session at that place during the past week.

Those attending from New Castle yesterday were Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Stough, pastor of St. John's church of this city; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brudin and daughters Elizabeth and Eleanor, Mrs. J. W. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Blaha and daughter Helen, Mrs. John Burry and Margaret Reid, F. H. Gilbert and Luther Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. William Kocher, Mr. and Mrs. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. William Kleckner, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Thompson and daughters Elizabeth and Grace, Mrs. Stella Diefendorfer and Mrs. John Burkhart and Helena and George Burkhart and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brookover and daughter Ethel.

Rev. Ellis B. Burgess, president of the Pittsburgh synod, preached the closing sermon.

Now why in the world do they want to ruin a perfectly good wreath by dropping it from an airplane into the Mahoning river? Why not pick out one of the nice, clean lakes out in the park?

New U. S. Envoys

Warren D. Robbins, top, of New York, counsellor of the American embassy in Rome, has been named minister to Salvador; H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld, below, of Providence, R. I., in the consular service since 1910, has been appointed minister to Bulgaria.

Ellwood Included In A. A. A. Itinery

ELLWOOD CITY, July 23.—Ernest N. Smith, General Manager of the American Automobile Association of Washington, D. C., will visit various AAA Clubs of Western Pennsylvania the coming week. Mr. Smith will be accompanied during his trip in the State by Rudolf Kirschman, Manager of the Johnstown Motor Club. Mr. Kirschman is the chairman of the Western Organization Committee of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation. Other State officials will join Mr. Smith at various places, to meet and confer with club officials.

On Monday evening, the conferences will open with a meeting with the directors of the Uniontown Motor Club. The President and Manager of the Uniontown Club is J. H. Dunn, who is one of the Vice-Presidents of the State organization. On Tuesday at noon, the men will meet with the officials of the Greensburg Club. Tuesday night, they will gather at Pittsburgh, with the officials of the Automobile Club of Pittsburgh. Wednesday, Manager Smith will spend at Johnstown, addressing the Rotary there at noon, and the directors in the afternoon. Wednesday night he will return to Pittsburgh, meeting the officials of the Wilkinsburg Club.

On Thursday at noon, the men will meet with Burton J. Bell, chairman of the state publicity committee and officials of the Ellwood City Motor Club, the party going on to Greenville to attend the annual picnic of the Greenville Motor Club. At noon on Friday, a meeting with the Club officers at Oil City, and a get-together with the Erie Club that evening.

President S. Edward Gable of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation is expected to join the motor club officials party at Oil City for the days' conference.

Manager Smith will go into Ohio from his Western Pennsylvania trip.

Women Show Males Political Tricks

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington Correspondent for Central Press and New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The party managers, Republican and Democratic alike, are taking the women's vote more seriously this campaign than ever before.

They have wanted all they could get of it, to be sure, from the adoption of the 19th amendment, but not with the same ardor that they do now.

For one thing, this looks like a close fight.

Then again, women seem to be increasingly interested in public issues. It behooves the rival groups of bosses each to turn this developing interest to its own party's account.

* * *

But more than anything else, the leaders made the discovery during the recent conventions that a woman politician can be just as good a politician as anybody else.

Previously, old-line masculinity had patronizingly recognized, here and there, one of the sisterhood as pretty fair at the game—"for a woman."

Today, the slickest of the "G. O. P." crowd will take his oath that Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt is fully as capable at it as he is himself. His corresponding professional in the Jeffersonian bunch is prepared to make affidavit that Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross has nothing to learn from him.

* * *

Neither Mrs. Willebrandt nor Mrs. Ross exactly emerged from obscurity. Both were already very well known.

Still, Mrs. Willebrandt's reputation was not built so much on the fact that she was an assistant U. S. attorney general as on the circumstance that she was the first woman to hold that particular job.

As for Mrs. Ross—It was rather because she was a woman ex-governor than merely because she was ex-governor of Wyoming that she was famed.

* * *

It was at Kansas City that Mrs. Willebrandt convinced the brethren of her ability to run a steam roller as efficiently as any man of them all.

The credential committee's report was the roller entrusted to her guidance. Steering it is a mighty tricky piece of work. Provided it is done properly, everything else goes as smoothly as silk, but no lump must be missed which might serve as an obstruction to proceedings later on. Every undesired element must be skwushed flat.

We all knew whether there was or not, after Mrs. Willebrandt, with that roller, had been the rounds. A spirit level would not have indicated an inequality, from that time on.

It was almost too perfect. It was monotonous. That was the only complaint. There will not even be any complaint of that if the "G. O. P." wins on November 6. Party experts pronounced it the most remarkable technical performance they ever had seen.

* * *

Mrs. Ross made her record as a pre-convention campaigner for Alfred E. Smith.

Not that she is not keeping it up yet, but she started with the primaries and nothing could stop her—as the anti-Smith folks in California, who tried to and could not, will testify.

And at Houston the delegates recognized it by giving her a creditable vice presidential vote.

It was only complimentary, to be sure. The managers hardly felt that the time had come for a woman vice presidential candidate yet—but in

MRS. MABEL WILLEBRANDT — NELLIE TAYLOE ROSS

1932?—some of them are saying—who knows?

* * *

Lots of politicians think Mrs. Willebrandt is slated for a high place in the administration—maybe a cabinet post—if Hoover is our next president.

Or—if it's Smith—perhaps Mrs. Ross.

Anyway, the party bosses have got a new idea of what women can do in politics. They've learned a thing or two from ex-Gov. Ross and Assistant Attorney General Willebrandt.

PROBE CAR WRECK IN PITTSBURGH

Two Persons Dead And More Than Score In Hospitals, Injured

(International News Service)

BRADDOCK, Pa., July 23.—With two persons killed and more than a score in the hospital seriously injured, two investigations got under way today into the street car crash here late Saturday.

Both officials of the Pittsburgh Railways company and Coroner W. J. McGregor are making inquiries into the accident which occurred when a shuttle car broke away after reaching its terminal, dashed down the steep grade of Liberty street and crashed into aclothing store.

Two cousins, Conceppo Presio, 11, and Yolando Sabala, 11, both of North Braddock, were killed. More than a score were injured. Frank McFarren, 62, of Hazelwood, motorman of the street car, and Tom Butler, conductor, were held under $1,000 bond pending the outcome of the investigations. McFarren was only slightly injured.

McFarren was the only occupant of the car during its wild ride down the steep hill. He said that he and Butler were assisting Stella Dowling, 18, of Swissvale, who had turned her ankle and fallen to the sidewalk, when the car broke loose and started down the hill.

Dashing after the car, McFarren swung aboard. He said he attempted to apply the brakes. Both trolley poles were off and there was not sufficient air in the tanks to operate the air brakes.

All of the injured persons with the exception of Paul Evans, 35, Braddock undertaker, were either inside the clothing store where the car smashed or were walking in front of it. Evans was injured when the street car smashed into his automobile.

Seven More Troops Of Boy Scouts Go To Camp Phillips

New Groups Of Boys Out On Slippery Rock For Two Week's Outing

Seven more troops of Lawrence county's Boy Scouts arrived at Camp John M. Phillips, on the banks of the Slippery Rock creek this morning, according to Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan.

The seven troops that went into the camp today, and which will return to their homes Saturday, August 4, are as follows: Ewing Park Troop 1; Rotary Ellwood City Troop 8; Shelby, Ellwood City, Troop 7; Knox Stop Troop 44; Pine Tree, Ellwood City, Troop 43; and American Legion, Ellwood City, Troop 10.

The New Castle contingent returned from camp Saturday morning. According to camp director Le Roi Norton, in spite of the rains, a most successful period was finished, replete with good times. Many tests were passed, and the boys put into practice much of the material they acquired in the indoor sessions during the winter.

Officially Fix Parking Place For Auto Busses

Auto busses which haul passengers to Grove City, Koppel and Bessemer will not be permitted to park at any other place than on the south side of the public square, according to a resolution adopted by council in session today.

A section five feet east of Diamond alley and extending 36 feet has been set aside for the busses.

The resolution was urged by Chief of Police Horner.

ACT ON ORDINANCE

Council today reported from committee with a favorable report, an ordinance which prohibits the obstruction of highways or sidewalks by the display of merchandise or anything that would interfere with foot or pedestrian traffic.

The ordinance has been sent to the printers pending final passage.

Ice-Breaker Is Damaged By Gale

Ice-Breaker Maligin Is Reported Damaged By Storm In White Sea

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, July 23.—The Russian ice-breaker Maligin, sister ship of the Krassin, has been damaged in a gale while returning to Archangel to refuel, said a radiogram from the commander today.

The Maligin, which was compelled to halt its rescue work by lack of coal, ran into a terrific storm upon entering the White sea. Waves dashed completely over the vessel and ice rammed a hole in the side of the hull.

Repairs were made while the pumps were kept working at full speed.

There isn't any Santa Claus, but if you're king of a country whose good will is coveted by England and Russia, you don't need one.

Arrangements For Radio Holding Up Notification Date

Governor Smith Awaits Word From Radio Corporation Before Setting Date

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., July 23.—Although the date for his notification has not been fixed because of radio complications, Governor Al Smith expects to make a final draft this week of the address he will deliver on that occasion, it was indicated today.

Because he will deal extensively with every campaign issue in his notification speech, particularly prohibition and farm relief, the governor is determined to have the ceremony broadcast through radio stations in every part of the country. As yet, however, he has not been able to obtain assurances from the National Broadcasting company that the nationwide hookup can be secured for the hours on the night he has in mind.

It is understood the governor has settled on the week of August 20 for the notification and that he would prefer either Wednesday or Thursday night if proper radio arrangements can be made.

The notification ceremony will be held on the steps of the state capitol. In front of the capitol there is a spacious park which can easily accommodate the 100,000 Democrats expected to attend the event.

Harbor Street Sewer Bids Are Presented

Bids were opened by council today for a sanitary sewer in Harbor street but no contract was let pending a report and recommendation by the city engineer.

The city engineer estimated the construction will cost $1,123.90 and the bids follow:

Elder & Ferry, $1,165; Woods & Golder, $1,298.50; M. J. Scanlon, $1,725.04.

The Story Of Our War With Spain
A Spanish Fleet Sails Westward

APRIL 29, 1898. A STRONG SPANISH SQUADRON SAILED FROM THE CAPE VERDE ISLANDS, AND HEADED WESTWARD ACROSS THE ATLANTIC, BOUND FOR SOME CUBAN PORT WHICH COULD BE USED AS A BASE FROM WHICH TO MAKE RAIDS UPON THE EASTERN COAST OF THE UNITED STATES.

THE SPANISH SQUADRON WAS UNDER THE COMMAND OF ADMIRAL CERVERA, AND CONSISTED OF THE POWERFUL CRUISERS "MARIA TERESA" (FLAGSHIP), "CRISTOBAL COLON", "VISCAYA" AND "ALMIRANTE OQUENDO", AND THE TORPEDO-BOAT DESTROYERS "FUROR", "PLUTON" AND "TERROR".

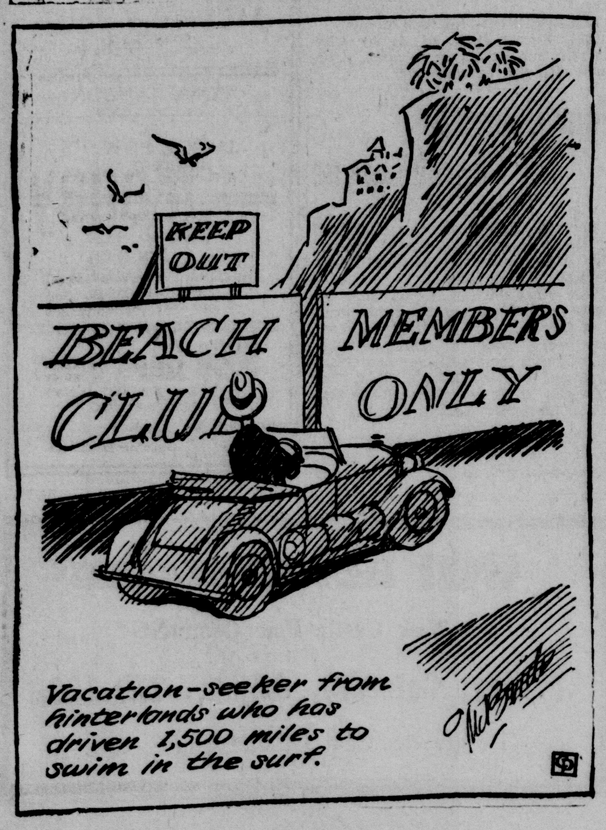

NEWS OF CERVERA'S DEPARTURE FROM CADIZ, SPAIN (APRIL 19), HAD BEEN CABLED TO WASHINGTON AND, OUR NAVAL EXPERTS AGREEING THAT THE SPANIARD WOULD HAVE TO COAL AT SOME WEST INDIAN PORT BEFORE MAKING AN ATTACK ON OUR SHORES, THE OBJECT OF OUR NAVY BECAME TO HEAD OFF THE ENEMY WHILE HE WAS STILL IN SOUTHERN WATERS.

IT WAS THE POPULAR BELIEF, HOWEVER, THAT CERVERA MEANT TO SWOOP DOWN UPON OUR NORTH ATLANTIC SEABOARD, AND OUR EASTERN PORTS WERE FILLED WITH WILD EXCITEMENT. EVERY DISTANT STEAMER AROUSED SUSPICION, AND MANY PERSONS CANCELLED THEIR PROPOSED SUMMER VACATIONS BY THE SEASIDE.

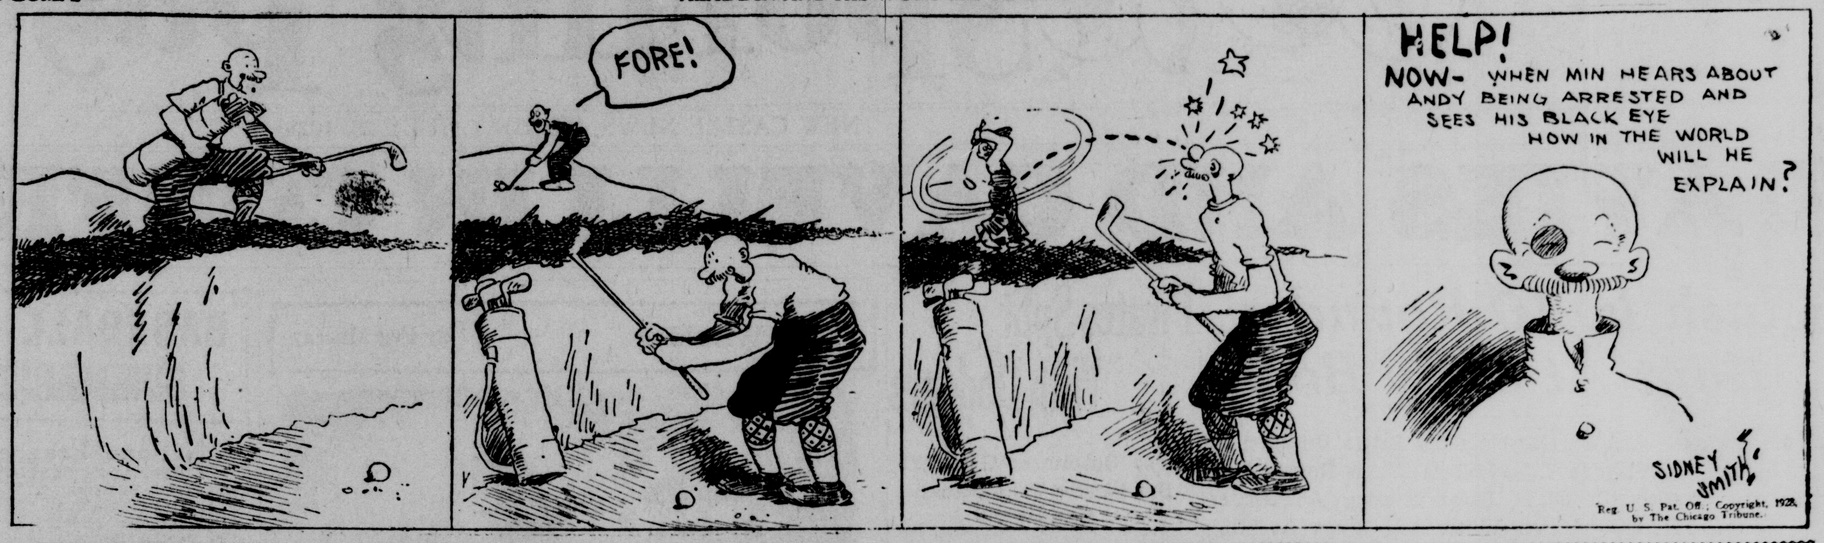

TOMORROW—THE BLOCKADE OF CUBA.

DAVIES AND CAVELLI IN CONFIDENT MOOD

Clash In 10 Round Bout At Jolly Bowl

Eddie Ruckman And Joe Boychan To Settle Question Of Supremacy; Filipino Valdez Meets Mickie Dugan; Two Other Battles On Card; Large Throng Anticipates World Of Fistic Action When Bell Rings At Nine O'clock

IP AND 'PEP', those two well known qualities which go far to make any kind of a movement edible to the public will be dis-played in bounteous quantity tonight when fistic inclined gather at Jolly Bowl where Carl Cavelli, former New Castle newsboy meets Willie Davies, fourth best flyweight in the world in a boxing bout scheduled to go ten rounds. Cavelli is an Italian-American and until a few years ago lived here. Davies is a Welsh-American and resides at Charleroi. They are evenly mated for fast action.

They weighed in this afternoon at the Jolly bowl. Neither tipped the scale at the stipulated 117 pounds. Cavelli appeared trained to a minute edge. Davies skin was pink, without a blemish and his eyes are clear.

"I'm in splendid condition and hope to win over the great Wee Willie tonight," said Cavelli.

Will Start With Bell

"I will start with the bell and never stop," said the Welsh-American as friends paged him for an opinion.

Cavelli has trained with Jack Heslop at Canton. Jack is a good 133 pounder.

Davies has worked for ten days against Tony Columbo at his Charleroi gymnasium.

A victory over Davies means everything to Cavelli and Davies must win to keep his reputation unsullied.

Joe Boychan, Newark and Eddie Ruckman, knockout artist, Akron, clash in the semi-final of six rounds.

They should furnish spectacular action likewise Jacinto Valdez, Filipino who battles six rounds with Mickie Dugan.

First Filipino Here

Jacinto is the first Filipino to appear here and he will have to fight to win from Dugan of Cleveland in six sessions.

Tony Canzoni, Cleveland and Jackie Powers, Youngstown, 115, who fought a fast bout a week ago will again box four rounds.

Harry Lebo, New Castle, 122 pounder, will start his career here by milling with Johnny Haggerty, 122, Pittsburgh in the first four round battle.

A large crowd is expected to witness the contest as there is considerable rivalry between followers of Davies and Cavelli. The doors of the Jolly bowl will open at seven o'clock.

The first bout will start promptly at nine o'clock fast time. The judges, timekeeper and referee will not be known until the boxing commission makes public its selections.

Ryantown Trims Edenburg 2-1 In Exhibition Game

Wilcox, Ryantown Pitcher, Sets Record With Fourteen Assists In Game

Ryantown defeated Edenburg 2 to 1 in a well played nine-inning exhibition game at the Ryantown field on Saturday afternoon. The game was a pitching duel between Jones and Wilcox.

Wilcox on the mound for Ryantown probably established a new record for local diamonds, by handling 14 assists and one putout without an error. Wilcox allowed but five hits and fanned eight men. Jones, pitching for Edenburg, gave six hits and fanned eight.

Ryantown climbed on Jones in the fourth for enough hits to produce two runs. Edenburg found Wilcox for a lone tally in the eighth inning. Kaufmann and Russo were the feature hitters.

Ritticisms

BY BILL RITT

A plan has been discovered by which the other American League ball clubs can stop the Yankees. While the Yanks are doing their stuff in baseball the other clubs should take up cricket.

* * *

As the Yanks would be making their daily dozen runs in baseball, the Red Sox, for instance, would be scoring hundreds at cricket.

* * *

At that rate the Hugmen would be a cinch even for the Phillies.

* * *

Cricket games are never called by darkness. Sometimes they even last a whole week. You can arrive at the park two days late and still get there in time for the seventh inning rally.

* * *

There is no world series in cricket. There isn't time for it. The opening game of the season might not be over before September.

* * *

There are no fouls in cricket unless one counts the rummies who forget themselves enough to root for the home team. The fans are supposed to suffer in silence.

If he sees an advertisement of some health-building contrivance and reads it carefully, he will be 42 this year.

Pirates Split With Dodgers

Vance Outpitches Grimes, But Pirates Take Second Game

RICONDA GETS HOMER IN FIRST CONTEST

BROOKLYN, July 23.—The Pirates split even in a double-header with the Dodgers, dropping the first tilt 5 to 0 and winning the second game 6 to 5.

The opening game was a pitching duel between Burleigh Grimes, former Dodger, and Dazzy Vance, who got his start in the majors as a Pirate.

The dodgers solved Grimes' offerings enough to bring them a whitewash victory. The game was featured by a homer by Harry Riconda, who sent the ball back of left field.

The second portion of the bill was a Pirates victory, but they had to wait until the eighth to make sure of it as it was in that session they got the winning run.

Kremer hurled against Doak, who lasted three innings. Clark, Koupal and Elliott took a turn on the mound. Hemsley and Herman hit three-base hits.

The box scores:

Three Wise Men — By Feg Murray

When Head Coach Lawson Robertson feels the need of advice, in any matters pertaining to the Olympic track and field team, of which he is Major Domo, Czar, and High Exalted Boss, he has many assistants, young and old, on whom to call. Among these are John W. Behr, of the Illinois Athletic Club, and Robert L. Templeton, of Stanford University.

There probably isn't much that these two gentlemen don't know about track and field sports, but if there is, Robbie has only to look around to get plenty of good advice from Dean Cromwell, of the University of Southern California; Eddie Farrell, of Harvard; Harry Hillman, of Dartmouth; Wilbur Hutsell, of Auburn; Tom Keane, of Syracuse; Jack Ryder, of the Boston Athletic Association and Henry Schulte, of Nebraska. Quite an imposing list, to be sure. (Some will even go as far as to suggest that "Too many cooks spoil the broth," but that is getting off the subject.)

"Dink" Templeton, the youngest of Robbie's coaching staff, starred as a field-event man when a student at Stanford after the war. He specialized in the jumps, and at the final Olympic tryouts in Boston in 1920, when ruled out of the high jump for alleged "diving," he made a post entry into the broad jump and qualified for the Olympic team. He has enjoyed success as coach at Stanford, winning the I. C. 4. A. title the last two years.

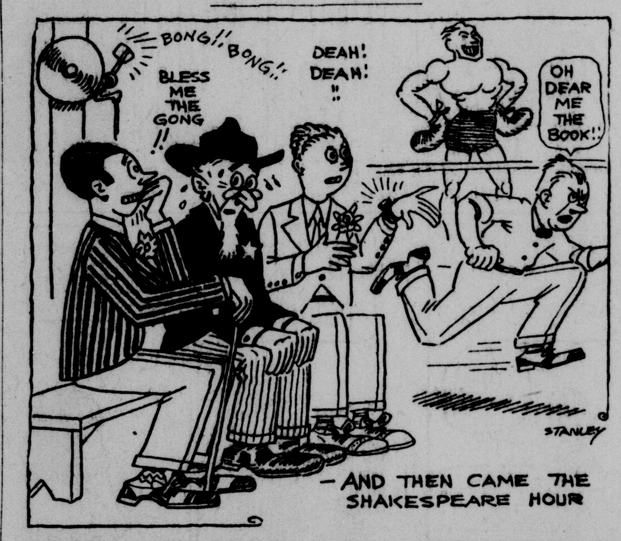

Johnny Behr, who has eight men on the team from the I. A. C., was born in Brooklyn in 1893 and spent most of his life in Chicago. He was once a professional boxer, and also played professional football. Joie Ray broke his first world's record under Johnnie's supervision, and John thinks, and so does Joie, that the Kankakee flyer isn't through breaking records yet.

"The First Time I Saw—" (True Stuff.)

The first time I saw Babe Ruth he was playing left field in the White Sox park in Chicago. A dog came out on the field and Ruth threw his glove at it to shoo it away. A batter then hit a fly to left field, which Babe had to catch bare-handed.

Shakespeare Is Best Of Champ's Sparring Partners, Says Otey

By MARSHAL OTEY WALKER
Sports Writer for Central Press and New Castle News.

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 23.—Here I am all set to write the news, if any, of the big fight.

I came up here to get the dope on Gene Tunney (he's the champion) who will fight a man named Heeney, who came all the way from New Zealand to see if his nose is stronger than Tunney's fist.

I haven't seen Heeney's nose, so I can't, as yet, predict how the fight will end.

However, I have seen Tunney work out. And I learned something. What I learned was that a fighter in training for a fight does most anything but fight.

I have been told that Tunney likes to give lectures. But I've been here all day and he hasn't said a word. Instead he reads books. By noon he had read three books, a pamphlet and six magazines. I understand he sent his sparring partners this afternoon to the city library for some more.

If Gene loses this fight it won't be because he's gone stale, but because he's got astigmatism.

Well, this afternoon I saw the champ in a workout. First he skipped a rope and then did a few dance steps. Then he squared off and knocked holes in the air with his fists.

"Shadow boxing," exclaimed Billy Gibson, his manager. Well, it may have been shadow boxing, but I didn't even see the shadow, and what good would whipping your shadow do since it can't fight back?

While I was thinking about this a sparring partner climbed in the ring with Tunney and a fight started. Gene hit the fellow so often that the champion's fists bounced like rubber.

Just when he had him licked the bell rang and Tunney started toward us. Gibson gave a look at his wrist watch and started to run away. He looked awfully pale.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"It's the Shakespeare hour," he yelled over his shoulder. "And I forgot to bring his book!"

HILLSVILLE-RYANTOWN TO BATTLE TONIGHT

Hillsville and Ryan town will hookup tonight in a National Section, Twilight League game at the Ryantown field on Sampson street. The game is called for 6:30 o'clock Daylight Savings Time. There is a great rivalry between these two teams and a good game is expected tonight.

Ryantown has a chance to cop the flag in the National Section and a win tonight will be their ultimate goal. McCann and Zidow will handle the game as officials.

Tennis Body To Reconsider Case Against Tilden

French Lawn Tennis Association Asks That Tilden Be Reinstated

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—The Davis Cup committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association was to reconsider the case of William T. "Big Bill") Tilden here this afternoon at the request of the French Lawn Tennis Association. Persons close to official tennis circles here believe the deposed captain of the American team will be restored to amateur standing and reinstated.

The probabilities are, however, that announcement of Tilden's reinstatement, if he is declared eligible, will be made in Paris by Samuel B. Collom, president of the U. S. L. T. according to Edward B. Moss, executive secretary of the association, the power of naming Tilden a member of the Davis Cup team rests entirely with Collom.

Gene Tunney Quite Serious About His Flight To New York

Champion Even Intimates That He Will Not Fight Thursday If Stopped In Flight

Dudley Field Malone Spills Earful To Tex Rickard About Peeved Ring Champ

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, July 23.—It would be passing strange, indeed if, after all the pains I have taken with the situation, there would be no fight for the heavyweight championship of the world on Thursday night, but if you think I'm turning comic in the matter you ought to talk to Dudley Field Malone, the barrister. Dudley, or deadly, if you insist, was said to have been around Madison Square Garden today intimating to Tex Rickard that such may prove to be the case, and the only thing that served to give the young man a hearing is the understanding that he was speaking for the boy friend, Brother Tunney himself.

May Forsake Bout

The writer unfortunately cannot vouch for what Dudley said. He merely can tell you what he is said to have said, the authority for same being an official of the Garden corporation. The alleged statement, in effect, was that, if Rickard persisted in getting out his injunction restraining Brother Tunney from flying hitherto from Speculator on the morning of the fight. The boy friend would be so miffed that he wouldn't come to Mr. Rickard's party at all.

Dudley has been Brother Tunney's barrister, off and on, for several years. It was my understanding that recently the connection in question was off because it was out, after the manner of a superfluous hair or something. But when he turned up to heckle Rickard over the week-end the inference was that it was on again, for Dudley quickly declared himself as representing Brother Tunney in the aerial or perhaps merely airy controversy now raging.

Balchen As Pilot

The status of the matter otherwise remained as was this morning. Brother Tunney insists that he will fly down to the fight on Thursday, a distance of 260 miles, with Bernt Balchen, pilot for Commander Byrd's trans-Atlantic flight, at the controls. Rickard says the good man has no right thus to endanger his, Rickard's interests, to say nothing of Heeney's and those of the good old pay-trons, laugh them down, laugh them down. Rickard also says that he will enjoin the gentleman if he does not alter his plans before sundown today.

He was expressing himself along these lines this morning when Dudley uttered his threat that, of all the millions who are planning to stay away on Thursday night, one of them might prove to be Brother Tunney.

Personally, it is my hope some day to give you a time-exposure of a man steadfastly staying away from more than a half million dollars. I am working at present on an idea that will portray this scene in all its interesting details, but am sorry to state that the apparatus isn't quite perfected for the present emergency.

However, there is this much to be said for the situation: if Rickard really seems to serve his man with an injunction, he would do well not to wait until Thursday morning, the scheduled start of the flight. If he waits till then, it will be tantamount to a postponement of the fight itself, for Speculator is an overnight trip by rail and 10 hours of intensive driving by motor.

Is Not "Hoax"

It is fact, not fancy, too, that Rickard and the boy friend are putting on no act with this controversy. Rickard almost swooned when he learned that Tunney was flying to Philadelphia from Stroudsburg for the first Dempsey fight in 1926. He has been against flying fighters ever since. As for Brother Tunney, he means to fly down from Speculator, or if he really meant to use other means of transportation he would be leaving camp not later than tomorrow night. Besides that, if you don't select an international figure like Balchen for the purpose of furthering an intended hoax. It might be mentioned, in this connection, that there was no hoax about his illness during the Stroudsburg to Philadelphia flight.

No, this strange man, Gene Tunney, undoubtedly intends to go flying on one of the most important days of his life.

Yankees-Cards Have Big Leads

Almost Impossible To Halt Yankee Clan; Cards Are Playing Fine Ball

WHITE SOX HALT YANKEE STREAK

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 23.—The Athletics and Cubs are beginning to arrive at the conclusion that trying to overhaul the Yankees and Cardinals is like cheating at solitaire—there's little profit or pleasure in it. During the intersectional series just concluded the A's won twelve games out of sixteen—the best record in the league but the Yanks copped twelve out of eighteen and are 10½ games in front. The Cubs won thirteen out of seventeen on their home lot but gained only a game and a half on the Cards, whom they trail by four games.

The rejuvenated White Sox, with ten wins in seventeen starts, were the only other American League team to get better than an even break. Features of the National League were the spurt of the Pirates, who won eleven out of fourteen, and the flop of the Giants, who dropped to fourth place. Each of the Western teams in the senior circuit won at least two-thirds of its games. Boston won but two games in the west and Philadelphia only one.

Yankees Stopped

The Yankees run of eight straight wins was broken yesterday by Red Faber, veteran spitball hurler of the White Sox. Red suddenly switched his batting stance from right to left-handed in the eighth inning. This so disconcerted Cy Moore, the New York pitcher, that he grooved one which Faber hit safely. The blow gave Chicago two runs which won the game, 6 to 4.

Hafey and Hurst, both on a home run spree, hit for the circuit as the Cardinals nosed out the Phillies in the ninth, 8 to 7.

Charley Root held the Giants to four hits, beating them 4 to 2.

The Pirates nosed out Broklyn, 6 to 5, after Dazzy Vance had whitewashed them 5 to 0. Vance whiffed eight batters, bringing his strikeout total for the season to 112. Pat Malone, the speed boy of the Cubs, is his nearest rival with 92.

Cincinnati came from behind to nip Boston, 5 to 4. Washington trounced Detroit, 8 to 2, and jumped ahead of Cleveland to fifth place. The Indians took an 8 to 5 beating from the St. Louis Browns.

MT. JACKSON

LIGHTNING STRIKES TREE

The huge oak tree at the residence of W. C. Powers of the Mt. Jackson road was struck by lighting Friday night, splitting it from top to bottom and causing a part of it to fall on the house and shattering some windows in the second story.

The tree is over one hundred years old and is 14 feet in diameter and is a landmark in the community. It stood by the old road, now closed, that led to the Iron ore and coal mines on the run north of the Mt. Jackson road and at the rear of the Power's property.

Several children who were visiting at the Power's home were sitting on the porch about ten feet away but were uninjured.

The telephone wires that were near the tree seemed to take the charge for all the phones south as far as the Seventh ward were out of commission.

CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT

Tomorrow night the Y. P. C. U. of the Mt. Jackson U. P. church will give an entertainment in the church auditorium.

New Castle Playground Best Declares Carnegie Steel Man In Address To Rotary Club

"To build better children, is the sum and substance of playground work," declared A. R. Masterson, recreational work director for the Carnegie Steel company, in his address on "Recreation on the playground," given before the members of the New Castle Rotary club in their regular weekly gathering in the ball room of The Castleton.

"And to go on further," said Mr. Masterson, "I might say now that one of the best playgrounds—sponsored by the Carnegie Steel company—is located in your own town of New Castle." "That is the Carnegie playground on South Jefferson street."

Mr. Masterson has complete charge of playground work for the Carnegie company and has his wide experience in this work qualifies him to tell the members of Rotary what he did.

In a visit to the various playgrounds of New Castle last week, he declares that he found wonderful spots for better and greater playgrounds, for instance Gaston park. "For a little expense," he continued, "That section of your city Gaston park could be developed into one of the best playgrounds, and which could serve as well as a fine resting spot for adults.

Concerning the proposed community golf course, Mr. Masterson had this to say: "Youngstown has already several of such community enterprises in operation and they are paying well. It has been found that they will pay for themselves once the support is given them. I think it is a fine idea, and know it will help to advertise New Castle."

"Unsafe playground equipment should be discouraged. At some amusement centers there is equipment that is dangerous and things that children should never play on.

"The worker, or the supervisor, is the most important part of the equipment," said the safety director. The girl, or whoever it might be, will influence the life of the child immensely, and above all this should receive deep consideration."

Mr. Masterson, in closing, cited the fact that 28,352 children attended the local playground on South Jefferson street during June 1927; 37,210 during July of that year and over 34,000 in August of the same year.

Mr. Masterson was brought to New Castle by Superintendent Robert Tully of the local plant of the Carnegie Steel company.

Mystery Again Enters Case Of Author-Critic

Fail To Locate Dr. Loeb, Daughter Gladys And Maxwell Bodenheim On Boat

THIRD WOMAN HAS ENTERED TANGLE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—Mystery again descended today over the case of Maxwell Bodenheim, the "missing" Gladys Loeb, and the latter's physician-father when the three could not be found aboard a boat which they were reported to have boarded in New Bedford.

At the Provincetown Art Colony it was reported the irate Dr. Martin Loeb was on his way back here with his 19-year-old daughter and the novelist whom he calls a "menace."

Bodenheim had fled to Provincetown to avoid a scandal in connection with the suicide of pretty Virginia Drew. Gladys Loeb was intercepted by her father on her way to Bodenheim cottage at the Art Colony.

It was learned that the three boarded a Fall River boat at New Bedford, but scrutiny of the passengers on two such vessels docking here today failed to reveal anyone bearing a resemblance to them.

A third girl was disclosed among the tangled life lines flung about the novelist.

She took possession of the cottage announcing herself as Mrs. Mary Powell, a writer from Greenwich Village. Brunette and Bohemian in dress and manner Mrs. Powell looked no more than 22.

She declared she came up from the village with Bodenheim and Miss Loeb. Yet nobody about the Provincetown colony had seen her prior to their leavetaking.

"I'm sure Max will 'phone me," the dark-haired and comely tenant of the shack said in explanation of her settling down in the abandoned "Peggy."

Divorce Cases Being Heard

Judges Hear Testimony In Divorce Appeals At Court Today

DECISIONS WILL BE GIVEN LATER

Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers were engaged throughout the morning and the afternoon in hearing the testimony in divorce cases pending in the local court at the present time.

The case of Ruth L. Parr versus Clifton L. Parr, in which desertion is charged, was held over until this afternoon at three o'clock before Judge R. L. Hildebrand as the result of the presentation by Attorney Samuel L. Clark in behalf of Mrs. Parr of a writ of habeas corpus by means of which she hopes to regain possession of her little daughter, whom the husband took from the place in Canton, O., where she had the child placed temporarily during the past few days, and now has in his custody.

Attorney Clyde Gibson, on behalf of the father, objected on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction in the matter, but Attorney Clark contended that the court did, as all the persons concerned were now in the confines of Pennsylvania.

The decision of the court was to hold the habeas corpus proceedings and divorce case hearing at one and the same time.

The case of Josephine Gethings against Paul D. Gethings, in which desertion was the charge made, was the first heard by Judge Hildebrand this morning. Mrs. Gethings testified that they were married here in 1916 by Alderman O. H. P. Green. That her husband had a tendency to go from town to town, work a short time, leave for extended periods of time, leaving her on her own resources. At one time he joined the army, representing himself as a single man, and remained away two years. She stated that she had a daughter by this marriage, who is 11 years of age. He deserted her finally on April 26, 1926. She had been supporting herself and child since that time. She also testified that he abused her on various occasions. Her testimony was supported by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cole of Wheatland.

Mrs. Minnie Livermore claimed indignities in her testimony, as well as other reasons, in the hearing of her action in divorce from John M. Livermore before Judge R. L. Hildebrand this morning. She alleged in her testimony that her husband had threatened her life until she promised to marry him and then took her to Dayton, O., where he claimed he was manager of a store selling washing machines. There she found that he was merely a salesman and says he would not work at that. Her brother, whom he had promised a job, paid for their food there. Finally her husband was arrested for the theft of the machine which he had at the time of their marriage and sent to Atlanta prison for from one to five years, she said. She told of him abusing her on various occasions. They lived together less than three weeks. They were married December 27, 1926.

Other cases heard this morning and this afternoon by Judge R. L. Hildebrand were as follows: Lee L. Shira vs. May Vicie Shira, desertion; Leonardo Vuocalo vs. Carmela Chill Vuocalo, adultery; Margaret Cooper vs. R. D. Cooper, desertion; Joseph W. Smith vs. Carrie Smith, desertion.

Among the divorce cases heard this morning by Judge James A. Chambers was that of Adaline Clausen vs. B. F. Clausen, in which the charge was cruel and barbarous treatment. Mrs. Clausen told of being married to Mr. Clausen by a local minister and residing first at Franklin, Pa., and on Neshannock avenue, Lutton street and various other places. One of his first efforts at mistreatment was shooting a blank cartridge in their room at Franklin while she was in a delicate condition. He left her at Franklin and her mother brought her back here. They then resumed their married life for a time. She told of his beating her in March of this year, then leaving her. She has two sons, she testified.

Other cases heard by Judge Chambers this morning and afternoon were: Millard M. Mills vs. Geraldine P. Mills, desertion; Alfonso Russo vs. Cecelia Russo, desertion; Hester L. Gillette vs. A. E. Gillette, desertion; Elizabeth M. Boyd vs. F. S. Boyd, cruel and barbarous treatment; Kenneth Houk vs. Josephine Houk, desertion; Stinella vs. Stinella, cruelty.

"Hymn Singing" Injunction Is Made Permanent

Injunction Granted Coal Company To Halt Singing By Miners Becomes Permanent

(International News Service)

INDIANA, Pa., July 23.—By the terms of a thirty-eight page opinion on record here today, the "hymn singing" injunction restraining the United Mine Workers from interfering with the operation of the Clearfield Coal Company's Rossiter mine is made permanent. Unless exceptions to the order are filed, it becomes effective ten days from Saturday, when it was handed down by Judge J. N. Langham.

The case was shunted into nationwide attention when the company secured a temporary injunction against the Union local restraining its membership from conducting hymn singing services at the Magyar Presbyterian church at Rossiter. Members of the U. S. Senate committee which investigated conditions in the bituminous strike area, advised of the injunction on a visit here, participated in services at the church.

Boston Elevated Jumps Track; Two Persons Killed

Thirty-Five Injured As Elevated Leaves Rails And Falls On Building

WET RAILS ARE BLAMED FOR WRECK

(International News Service)

BOSTON, July 23.—Two persons are dead and thirty-five others are suffering from injuries sustained when a crowded four-car train of the Boston elevated Railway jumped the tracks last night while speeding around a curve. One car plunged off the tracks to the roof of a building twenty feet below and the others were piled up in the jumble of twisted wreckage.

The first victim identified was George T. Anderson, of Greenfield, Mass. The other person killed was not identified. Two of the injured are in a critical condition.

Firemen and police pulled the injured from the wreckage under the glare of flood lights. Rescue squads braved electrocution in carrying the victims past heavily charged wire supporters and down ladders to the street. The train was speeding forty miles an hour when it skidded on the wet rails.

Name Guardian For Enon Valley Woman At Court

A hearing was held this morning before Judge R. L. Hildebrand in the case of Lois A. McNutt of Enon Valley, recently adjudged mentally unfit and placed in Dixmont for the purpose of showing the necessity of having a guardian appointed to take care of her estate which it was shown was about $6,000.

Dr. W. D. Cleand and Dr. J. O. Wods testified to her condition also Mrs. W. L. Finnefrock who told of her desire to end her life and George R. Andrews of Enon Valley, a cousin with whom she lived previous to being placed in Dixmont. The court appointed George R. Andrews as guardian of her estate.

Mrs. Foulke Breaks Right Hip By Fall Down Porch Steps

Mrs. C. W. Foulke of Boyles avenue met with a painful accident Saturday afternoon when she slipped and fell down the porch steps at her home, fracturing her right hip.

Mrs. Foulke was removed to the Shenango Valley hospital soon after the accident where she is resting as comfortable as could be expected.

Every Man And Woman Has Seven Love Affairs?

Every modern man and woman has at least seven love affairs. At least that's what the bureau of Social Hygiene in New York City says anyhow. The bureau says that of course there are couples that have the one crowning love affair but the majority of others have even far more than seven.

These figures were arrived at after the bureau had questioned 200 men and women that were married but not to each other.

They discovered from this group that the total number of love affairs was 1,358. The total love affairs for 100 men was 681, and the total per 100 women was 677. Women reach the peak of their amatory reactions between the ages of 16 and 20 and the men between the ages of 21 and 22. In the thirties neither man or woman exhibited much romance but the woman reached a romantic peak about 40.

Three women in the 200 said that their lives had been devoid of any romance even though they had been married, 41 wives claimed that love affairs had caused them to stray from home while but 29 husbands reported similar estrangements.

There will be four races each day, consisting of two trots and two paces each day.

The track is being put in fine condition and the horses which will race are quartered at the Fair Ground track.

Asks Mortgage Be Satisfied; Claims She Paid

Petition of Mrs. Bertha E. Sheets asking that a mortgage executed to the late Attorney Leonard M. Uber in the amount of $200 and which has never been satisfied, but which she claims was paid in full, be satisfied was presented to Judge R. L. Hildebrand this morning.

The court directed that the Union Trust Company, as executor of the Uber estate, be served with notice to appear at the next term of court and show cause why the plea should not be granted. The mortgage was issued August 9, 1917. Mrs. Sheets states that she has an article of agreement to sell the property on which the mortgage was made to J. Clyde Gilfillan, pending the satisfaction of the mortgage.

Order Is Issued For Compensation

Judge R. L. Hildebrand today issued an order on the petition of Bertha J. Diamond, wife of Louis Diamond, directing that the Lawrence Savings & Trust company, guardian of her minor children Edward, Albert, Edna and Virginia Varley, pay her the sum of $8 a week toward their keep. She was formerly the wife of Edward Varley, who was killed while at work, and the children are entitled to workmen's compensation until the youngest is 16 years of age. The money is to be paid from the funds awarded by the Workmen's Compensation board until a further order of the court.

Crash Of Italia Will Be Probed, Says Mussolini

Italian Government Planning Intensive Inquiry Into Italia Disaster

TERMS EXPEDITION AS UNLUCKY ONE

(International News Service)

ROME, July 23.—The Italian government will make an inquiry into the conduct of the Nobile Polar expedition, Premier Mussolini announced today.

In his announcement which was made at a cabinet meeting, Premier Mussolini protested against "the anti-Italian wave of criticism of the unlucky Nobile expedition, whose members have shown courage worthy of universal respect."

The inquiry, the Premier added, would not be opened until the relief parties have exhausted every possibility of finding the missing Alessandri group—the six men who were carried away with the envelope of the Italia on May 25.

Mussolini said that the investigation would be conducted by Italians. Any other suggestion, he declared, "was absurd and offensive and would be refused."

The Premier evidently referred to the demand of certain Swedish newspapers that Sweden propose an investigation by the League of Nations.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 23.—The stock market this morning followed the irregular and unimportant course that characterized it last week, developments over Sunday having failed to throw any new light on the immediate financial outlook. Trading was again very light.

Peeport Texas was under bear attack and broke five points to a new low for the year of 55¼. On the other hand Kroger Stores was in active demand and advanced 3⅜ to a new high secord of 102.

Coppers were strong, although a few yielded fractionally. Kennecott Copper moved 1⅛ to 94¾, and Greene Cananea jumped 2⅛ to 100½.

Slight gains were shown by General Motors and most of the leading independent motor shares but buying was in light volume. United States Steel eased off a fraction but some of the leading independent steels held firm.

Radio sold off on early selling. Others to lose a little ground included American Smelting and Refining, Westinghouse, Sears Roebuck, and General Railway Signal. Issues that met with support and gained slightly included Montgomery Ward, Goodrich Rubber, Fleischmann, United Fruit and Allied Chemical.

Call money opened at 5½ per cent.

French Notaries In Divorce Mill Given Reprimands

Find Irregularities Occur In Divorces Handed American Citizens

(International News Service)

PARIS, July 23.—Six French notaries, accused of irregularities in connection with divorce actions begun here by Americans, were punished today by the special court which has been making an investigation. One was suspended for eight months; one for four months; one for two months and three were reprimanded. A seventh notary was vindicated.

Names of five more American women who obtained divorce decrees in the French courts were cited in the testimony today.

According to presiding Judge Wattine irregularities were said to have existed in the preparation of papers for the following litigants: Mrs. Richard Barthelmess, (Mary Hay) actress and wife of the American film star; and Mrs. Richard Washburn Child, wife of a noted American writer; Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Mrs. Warren Perry and Mrs. David Sowers.

NEW PRISONERS IN COUNTY JAIL

Number Sent To Bastile From Various Parts Of Lawrence County

In the county jail there are now about 50 prisoners, including six women. Three of the number were sent up by the city. The week-end, as far as the office of the sheriff is concerned, was dull, according to Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds. There were no calls made.

A number of prisoners were brought to the county jail from various aldermen and justices of the peace. John Atkins and Eva Shaffer, alias Marie Gennett, were placed in jail through Alderman William E. Marshall's court on a charge of suspicion of felony made by County Detective William Fleming.

Louis Gray was placed in the jail on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor made before Alderman O. H. P. Green by Chief of Police C. C. Horner.

Charles Albert was placed in jail on a charge of possessnig intoxicating liquor made by County Detective William Fleming in the office of Alderman O. H. P. Green.

Carmine Malley was placed in the county jail on a serious charge made before Justice of the Peace J. R. Chaney of Bessemer.

David Cochran was placed in jail on a charge of violating section 1001 of the Pennsylvania motor laws made before Justice of the Peace C. L. Zedaker of New Bedford.

Thinks Some Senior Hazing Would Be Of Real Benefit

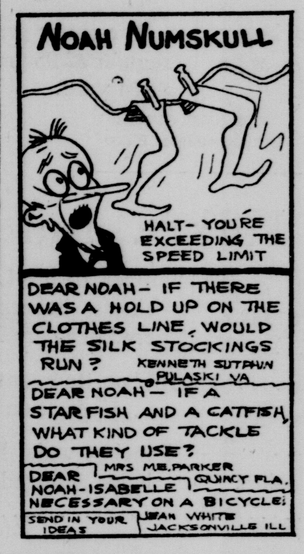

"Yes, I believe freshmen should be hazed, but I think the colleges would be doing a real service if they would give the seniors a smattering of it previous to leaving school," said a college graduate of this spring and a college senior a little more than a month ago.

The college senior has had things his own way for some time, he continued, and when he gets out into the world with a job on his hands he doesn't know how to take orders. He forgets that he must jump when he is told to out on the job, and that's exactly what he had to do when he was a freshman. It didn't go so bad then because you got used to it.

Of course, the average senior may know quite a bit about his books but as far as working experience is concerned and knowing how to take orders, well, he is just "out of it." The training given to a freshman is just what is needed for the senior when he hits his first job. If he has a little practice in it to get seasoned or acclimatized to it, the first job wouldn't take the sweetness out of life for several months.

The reporter who wrote this knows for he came through it all and is the fellow in question. If you don't believe it, try it all over and see for yourself!

Example of middle-aged "discretion": "Let's don't advertise, we'll just have to work harder to wait on the customers."
